THE CHRONICLE-TELEGRAM

o. 271. TWENTY PAGES ELYRIA, O., FRIDAY, MAY 18, 1923

WEATHER: Cloudy tonight and Saturday; probably local rains, slightly warmer in south portion tonight.

PRICE 2 CENTS

6 PARENTS, CHILDREN KILLED IN SCHOOL FIRE

OSITION OF OGRESS HERE EEK JUNE 11th

Preparations are going speedily forward for this—one of the biggest events ever held in the northern part of Ohio—an event all Elyria and Lorain County will be amazed with. The Exposition will be under the direction of DeBray & Muntz Exposition Company of Altoona, Pa., in which Elyria manufacturers, merchants and automobile dealers are going to participate.

Many Entertainments

This great exposition will be conducted under a huge tent 100 feet wide and 200 feet long, with all its decorations and electric effects, is in itself a great auditorium. This big tent will be pitched in a central location here in Elyria. Twenty-one hundred lineal feet of booths will be found within this canvas roofed amphitheatre. In this spacious tent, merchants, manufacturers and automobile dealers will make elaborate and beautiful displays. Not only will this great, gay color effect be marveled at by those visiting the exposition; there will also be a very noted orchestra and renowned musical and entertaining act; also wonderful style show in which will be displayed the latest creations in styles for the juveniles and the ladies featuring living models which in itself is one of the greatest events in an entertaining form found in all the large cities of the United States today.

All of this will be witnessed by thousands of people within many miles surrounding Elyria, who will come to this city to witness this one big event, something that will live in the memory of the public for many months after they have seen it.

To Be Big Week

This exposition of progress will open Tuesday night at 7:00 o'clock June 12th, and continue for five nights and four afternoons, which will make the biggest week Elyria has ever known.

JUDGE ADMITS DISQUALIFIED TO TRY CASE

CROSS CITY, Fla., May 18.—The trial on a first degree murder charge of Whipping boss T. W. Higginbotham, was abruptly halted today when circuit Judge Mallory F. Horne, disqualified himself after affidavits affirming that he was prejudiced were presented by the whipping boss' counsel. Steps were taken immediately to learn from Governor Hardee how soon another circuit judge could be secured to try the case.

State counsel attempted to get permission from Judge Horne to show that the affidavits, which included two from citizens of the county to the effect the judge was biased, were not according to law, but the judge, admitting this contention, refused to continue to preside over the trial.

The affidavits stated that widespread publicity had influenced the judge.

Higginbotham, upon advice of counsel, stood mute when arraigned today and a plea of not guilty was entered. Attorneys for the defense filed exceptions, claiming Dixie county lacked jurisdiction in the case.

TURKS FEAR ANOTHER WAR WITH THE GREEKS

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 18.—Fearing renewal of hostilities with the Greeks, the commander of the Turkish regular troops at Ismid today ordered that no more leaves of absence be granted. Ismid is the most important garrison in Turkey.

The situation is growing more tense owing to hostility toward both Rusia and France, as well as to Greece.

INDICTS IRISH FOR COUNTY SHORTAGE

Mitchell Qualifies as County Recorder; Names Miss Cora Phelps as His Deputy

The grand jury met this morning and returned an indictment against Frank Irish, former county recorder charging the embezzlement of $1,109.43. They were in session but a short time, but also considered the case of William Baker, of Kipton. He was indicted for driving an automobile without the owner's consent, and was anxious to have his case disposed of as he has been in jail for some time. No further word has been heard from the missing man, since the report came that he was in Seattle.

This morning the commissioners met and approved the bond of William Mitchell, as recorder for the unexpired term which ends on September 1st. He went before Probate Judge Wilcox and was at once sworn into office.

Soon after he appointed Miss Cora Phelps, of this city, as deputy recorder. She has been in the office for the past six years, and is thoroughly familiar with it in every detail.

The report of the State examiner received today reveals that the first shortage took place in January, and continued during February, March and April. He received $867.24 in January and deposited $400. February received $773.39 and paid in $567.24. March received $1,115.17 and paid in $774.66. April received $1,290.84, and with what he paid in himself at the bank and what was paid in by the deputy, and received from the bank the amount paid in amounted to $1,304.74. Later $119.75, and one or two smaller payments were made. On one occasion $51.27 was credited to his account personally, but was later put in the proper fund by the bank.

LIST OF VICTIMS IN CATASTROPHE

CAMDEN, S. C., May 18.—Work of identifying the seventy four victims of the Cleveland school fire tragedy proceeded slowly here today.

At noon the police had the following positively identified:

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Humphries.
Mr. and Mrs. Luther Brown.
Mr. and Mrs. Miller McLeod, and two children.
Mr. and Mrs. M. L. West, and two children.
C. A. Pearce.
Mrs. C. R. Phillips and three children.
Charles Hendricks and four children.
M. B. McLeod, (brother of Miller.)
Mr. and Mrs. B. McLeod and one child.
Mrs. Britt Croft and three children.
Wesley Hendricks and one daughter.
Mrs. Rhodes.

30 TAKEN TO HOSPITALS IN TRAIN WRECK

CHICAGO, May 18.—Scores of commuters riding on a suburban train laden principally with residents of Joliet, Ills., miraculously escaped death or serious injury today when four coaches of the train left the rails on Rock Island tracks here. Thirty persons were taken to hospitals, but none was said to have suffered more than minor injuries.

Train employes prevented a threatened panic by calming the passengers. Two coaches toppled on their sides, the other two remaining upright.

No cause was given for the wreck, but an investigation was started.

VENOMOUS DARTS OF POISON PEN LETTERS SHOCK NEW YORK "400"

NEW YORK, May 18.—Evidence of a sensational "poison pen" plot with astounding ramifications has Gotham's wealthy and socially prominent set sitting literally "in fear and trembling."

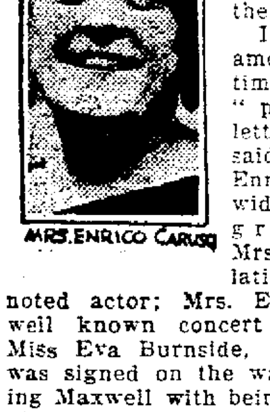
ALLAN RYAN

Developments have followed thick, fast and furious since Allan A. Ryan, Wall street financier, made the first complaint after the receipts of scurrilous letters attacking Mrs. Ryan.

First, society was rocked when District Attorney Banton charged George Maxwell, president of the American Society of Composers, Authors and Musicians, with being the wielder of the "poison pen."

Maxwell now is in Europe.

Then gradually as men and women, well known in social circles here, reluctantly admitted to authorities that they had been recipients of the slanderous notes society quivered with expectancy wondering who would be the next victim of the defiler's pen.



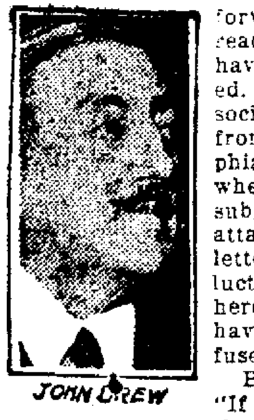
MRS. ENRICO CARUSO

Included among the victims of the "poison pen" letter writer are said to be Mrs. Enrico Caruso, widow of the great tenor; Mrs. Albert Gallatin, John Drew noted actor; Mrs. Eva Gauthier, well known concert singer, and Miss Eva Burnside, whose name was signed on the warrant charging Maxwell with being the author of the letters.

These and others are expected to be witnesses before the grand jury which is probing the alleged plot.

While friends of Maxwell, leader in musical circles, are defending him against the charges of being the "poison pen" author the district attorney's office declares the evidence against Maxwell is conclusive.

Increasing difficulty is being experienced each day in getting witnesses to come forward, and already a number have disappeared. Well-known society persons from Philadelphia and elsewhere, who were subjected to the attacks in the letters, are reluctant to come here, and many have flatly refused.



JOHN DREW

Banton said: "If Maxwell is the author of these letters or whoever is, I will say he is the best little alibi builder that this office has met in many long days. If he succeeded in writing letters to himself and to others when he was sick in bed with jaundice, so sick his physician states that he could not even sign a check he must have some one else working with him who was more than an innocent agent."

EVA GAUTHIER

It has been learned that shortly before Maxwell sailed for Europe he was very solicitous lest a young woman whom he knew four or five years ago should be involved in any trouble.

The young woman was reported to be Mrs. Marion Hildreth, who is now in Boston. When Maxwell made his complaint to the federal authorities four years ago in connection with his receiving scurrilous letters, Mrs. Hildreth was one of those questioned by the authorities and quickly exonerated. She had also been the recipient of letters about that time.

Joseph T. Van Loan, a broker of Wall street, who was a witness before the grand jury in the present inquiry, told of Maxwell coming to him before he sailed and making inquires about the whereabouts of Mrs. Hildreth, saying:

"If that little woman gets into trouble while I am away, I wish you would let me know about it, as I want to do anything I can to help her."

EVA F BURNSIDE

This was before Allan A. Ryan, upon whose complaint the present inquiry is founded, received the letters attacking Mrs. Ryan and before any official investigation was under way.

That the old, battered Oliver typewriter on which the 147 scurrilous letters are believed to have been written has been destroyed was the intimation yesterday by Banton. He said:

"While we have not the machine we thing it has been accounted for. I have every reason to believe that it was in existence before Maxwell sailed for Europe."

MRS. A. GALLATIN

Banton said that until he has read the evidence and the exhibits that were gathered and presented to the grand jury by Assistant District Attorney Kilroe, he will not decide whether or not he will ask Nathan Burkan, counsel for Maxwell, to call Maxwell back from Europe before the end of his present trip.

Burkan has promised the district attorney to produce Maxwell any time he is wanted and assured Banton that it will not be necessary to start extradition proceedings.

Not in years has society here been shaken as it has by the revelations regarding the receipt of "poison pen" letters by the most prominent in the "400" set.

4 COUNTY ROAD PAVING UPHELD; ELYRIA CO. WINS

COLUMBUS, May 18.—Holding that the state finance director has no jurisdiction over the policies of the state highway department and that the functions of the finance director are restricted to those of auditing, accounting, supervising public expenditures and matters incident thereto, the state supreme court today, overruling demurrer of counsel for Director Baker, in the case of the Highway Construction Company, Elyria, vs. Director Baker, ordered Director Baker to approve and forward to the state auditor the warrant providing for approximately $50,000 as payment to the construction company for work completed on a highway in Lorain county.

The supreme court today, in the case of the state on relation of C. M. Junk, Chillicothe contractor, versus State Highway Director Herrick, held that the governor is empowered to require the submission to the state finance department of copies of all contracts entered into on behalf of the state and other state administrative departments but that those provisions do not imply authority to require the submission of proposed contracts by other departments to the state finance director for his approval.

The supreme court decree today also disposes of the four suits filed by the Highway Construction Company asking that Director Baker be compelled to approve four contracts awarded to the company by Director Herrick providing for construction of 17 miles of highway in Lorain county at an estimated cost of approximately $550,000.

All Members Concur

The supreme court's opinion, interpreting the portion of the state administrative code, otherwise known as the Dunn emergency act, dealing with the duties of the state finance department, was written by Chief Justice Marshall and concurred in by all the other members of the state supreme bench.

"The best evidence that the legislature's intention that the functions of the various departments should be regarded as separate and distinct from each other is found in the fact that they were placed in separate and distinct departments, and each of these departments placed in charge of a separate and distinct responsible person," declared Chief Justice Marshall.

"It is true that the department of finance is first named and it may be conceded that none of the oth-

GRABLE SWORN IN AS MEMBER OF RAIL BOARD

CHICAGO, May 18.—E. F. Grable, formerly head of the Brotherhood of maintenance of way employes was today sworn in as a member of the U. S. railroad labor board by Miss Gertrude Dill, notary public of the board.

Grable was appointed by President Harding last week to succeed Albert Phillips, who has returned to his former position as vice-president of the firemen.

NINE OFFICERS HURT IN RUHR DISORDERS

Appeal of Krupp Leaders Recently Sentenced By French, Is Denied With One Exception

DORTMUND, Germany, May 18.—Nine policemen were wounded here today in repelling an attack by communists.

Communists attacked "Minister of Mines" Stein, demanding that the miners be compelled to quit work in protest against French occupation and French seizures in the Ruhr. When the police intervened the Reds attacked them with knives, sticks and stones.

DUSSELDORF, May 18. — Appeals lodged by Herr Krupp Von Bohlenund Hebla, president of the Krupp works and seven directors from the long terms of imprisonment imposed upon them by a French military tribunal at Werden, after they had been found guilty of conspiracy, were rejected today.

Only one appeal was allowed, that of Herr Mueller of the Krupp workmen's council, who had been sentenced only to six months.

It was alleged by the French that the Krupp officials were responsible for inciting disorders on March 31 when French troops opened fire, killing eleven Germans.

The sentences imposed included 15-year prison terms for Herr Krupp von Bohlen, Director Hartwig and Director Oesterlen, 20-year terms for Director Bauer, Director Scripter, Director Kreple and Director Kunz; a ten-year term for Dr. Bruhn and Herr Gross and six months for Mueller. Heavy fines were imposed in addition.

MANY TRAMPLED TO DEATH, SUFFOCATED IN S. C. HOLOCAUST

SCORE MORE SO BADLY BURNED THAT SOME ARE EXPECTED TO DIE—CATASTROPHE OCCURS AT GRADUATION EXERCISES ON SECOND FLOOR OF FRAME BUILDING, WHEN COAL OIL LAMP IS OVERTURNED—NARROW STAIRWAY TRAPS SPECTATORS LIKE RATS IN A TRAP

CAMDEN, May 18.—The appalling toll of death taken in the Cleveland school house fire mounted this afternoon to 76, fully half of them children and bid fair to go higher before night because of the terrible injuries suffered by those who escaped the fire swept inferno.

A hurried consultation between health and city officials at noon today resulted in a decision that all of the victims, both identified and unidentified, will be buried at six o'clock tonight because of the condition of the bodies.

Service In All Churches

The services will be conducted in every church in Camden, and all of the ministers in the city and from surrounding towns are to be pressed into service. Grave diggers were started to work at midday to prepare the graves.

Only half of the victims of the tragedy had been identified up to an early hour this afternoon. Those identified will be buried in separate plots, their bodies having been taken in charge by grief-stricken relatives.

The others, the unidentified men, women and scarred little children will be buried in a common grave, according to officials.

Bury 30 In One Grave

The identification of those who will be buried in one grave, some thirty or more, will have to await the slow processes of elimination because officials are fearful of holding the bodies above ground until it can be accomplished in ordinary ways. Nothing but ghastly cinders remain of some of the bodies, every trace of identification having been burned away.

They were burned, suffocated and trampled to death in a mad, terrific scramble for the one exit that led from the top floor of the flimsy, wooden structure.

Perhaps a score of others are so badly burned they may die, and many who were successful in their frenzied dash for the stairway are suffering from injuries of varying degrees of seriousness.

LIST OF GREAT FIRE DISASTERS

Following are some of the great fire disasters in this country in the last fifty years:

December 5, 1876, Brooklyn Theatre, 280 lives lost.

August 22, 1891, Taylor Building, New York, 61 lives lost.

June 30, 1900, Hoboken, N. J., piers and ships, 145 lives lost.

Sept. 20, 1902, Shiloh Baptist Church, Birmingham, 115 lives lost.

Dec. 30, 1903, Iroquois Theater, Chicago, 602 lives lost.

June 15, 1904, General Slocum (Ship), New York, 1,021 lives lost.

March 20, 1905, Shoe factory, Brockton, Mass., 100 lives lost.

April 18, 1906, San Francisco fire, 500 lives lost.

January 13, 1908, Rhoades Theatre, Boyertown, Pa., 169 lives lost.

March 4, 1908, School at Collinwood, Ohio 174 lives lost.

March 25, 1911, factory at New York, 145 lives lost.

December 25, 1913, theatre panic, Calumet, Mich., 72 lives lost.

Night of Horror

The terrible tragedy occurred at what is known as the Cleveland school. Those who escaped today told the horrible details of a night of terror.

Between 150 and 200 people were gathered in the school house for graduation exercises. The school house is of the old fashioned country, wooden type, with a stairway in the rear, and lighted only by kerosene lamps. It is located in a comparatively isolated community with no other houses or buildings near by.

The audience was made up of fathers, mothers and children, the latter dressed in their "Sunday best" for the biggest community event of the year.

About 10:30 p. m. after most of the exercises had been completed, and as the superintendent of schools was presenting the ribbon-bound diplomas to the graduates of the eighth grade, there was a terrific explosion. It came from a smoky kerosene lamp, swinging in the rear of the hall from the ceiling.

Burning oil was scattered over the entire back part of the big square room, and flames appeared instantaneously, catching readily at the dry wood.

Escape Is Blocked

The only staircase was in the rear, and almost before those in the room realized what had happened escape was virtually cut off. The flames immediately surrounded the staircase.

Those in the rear of the room

WEST RIDGE, May 18.—Miss Florence Dramm of South Ridge and Miss Ruby Sutorius called on Mrs. Dick Johnston recently.

Mrs. George Vogler of Elyria attended the Missionary society at Chas. Schaible's on Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Burrer and daughters, Lucile and Beatrice, motored to Litchfield on Sunday and spent the day with friends and brought Grandma Burrer home with them.

Harry A. Howk of the Oberlin road and Harvey Hahn called on John Bock Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. C. F. Lang spent Monday evening with Mrs. Amil Handroth.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Drusendahl of Amherst and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Germignet of Elyria called on Mr. and Mrs. John Bock Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Carl Friday of Cleveland was the guest of her sister, Mrs. Carl Fowl on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Eldred and daughters, Lillian and Lois were guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Hopkins of Amherst on Sunday and heard Miss Marian Steele tell of her European trip in the evening.

A petition has been circulated to secure signatures of those desiring to build a graded school house in the west precinct of Carlisle township. It is reported that the East precinct has secured more than enough signatures to erect such a building in the east side. There seems to be a choice given the taxpayers either to erect the two new buildings or remodel and enlarge the old school houses and build a new one at LaPorte, such a cost estimated at $45,000.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bock were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Schraeder of Amherst.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fowl and son, Kenneth were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Daus of South Ridge on Sunday.

C. F. Lang attended the Poultry Men's Association at Elyria on Monday evening.

Henry Pallas and family called on Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schramm on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Beal of the Telegraph road called on Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Lang on Sunday.

Richard Crayford of Fields Corners called at John Bock's on Monday.

Mrs. Fred Vietzen who was quite ill last week is able to be out again.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Simmis of the Schramm road called on Mr. and Mrs. George Lauer on Sunday.

Despite the inclement weather there was a good attendance at Carlisle Grange Tuesday evening. There was a short business session followed by the literary program on Mother's Day. An opening song "My Childhood Home," by the Grange. A reading by Mrs. Alberta Penfound, "Mother's Day." Roll call with quotations on "Mother" followed by an original paper on "May a Home eB So Happy that a Moth Would not Miss Outside Attractions". Mrs. W. Penfound. County Farm Agent Rogers then spoke on "Co-operation and the Problems Confronting the farmers of today." Miss Hazel Penfound and brothers, Harland and Carlton then gave several musical selections. A reading "The Present Day Needs in the Home" Mrs. Cora Fesler. "The Pretty House" a poem by Mrs. Blanche Eldred. The Grange song "Home Sweet Home" after which refreshments were served.

Set yourself straight on these Bran facts!

If you eat bran it is because you seek relief from constipation and toxic poisoning!

To get the relief your physician will tell you that bran will give—you must be certain to get Kellogg's Bran, BECAUSE it is ALL BRAN! That is the kind your physician intends you to eat.

You only delay positive relief when you eat foods with a partial bran content, because they can only help you in proportion to the amount of bran they contain! You haven't time to waste on 25 per cent or 50 per cent relief when you know that Kellogg's Bran will give you 100 per cent relief BECAUSE IT IS ALL BRAN!

Every day's delay lets your condition become worse! Pills and cathartics can only aggravate distressing conditions. Part bran foods cannot permanently help you! They do not have the necessary bulk or roughage that makes ALL BRAN positive in its mechanical action! That is why Kellogg's Bran is a necessity!

Kellogg's Bran—because it is ALL BRAN—is GUARANTEED to give you permanent relief if you will eat two tablespoonfuls each day, or as much with each meal in chronic cases!

If you would realize how delicious Kellogg's Bran is—cooked, krumbled and ready to eat—and what it means to your health—you would not lose a minute starting to eat it! All grocers sell Kellogg's Bran in the Red and Green package.

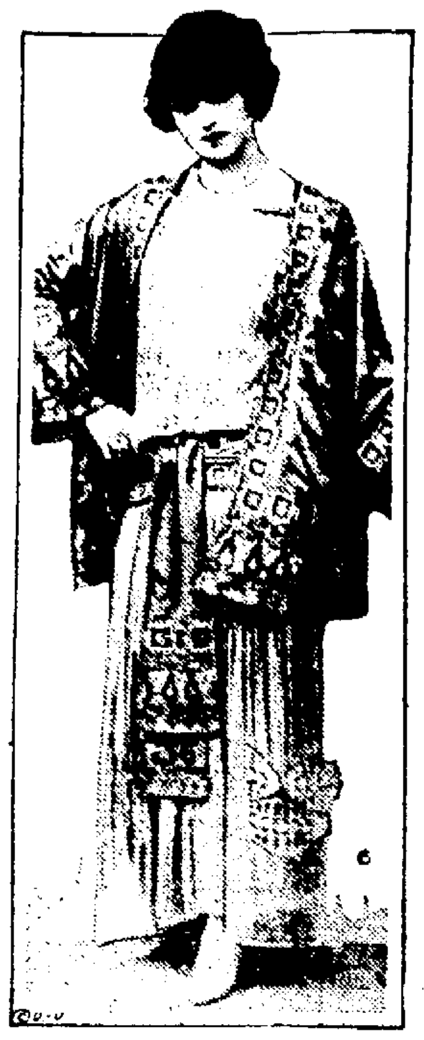
ELABORATE GOWN FOR SUMMER WEAR



Here is the newest development of the three-piece suit. It is an elaborate gown for summer wear. The dress is of champagne colored lace and net with an Egyptian-like sash and girdle of almond green satin embroidered in colors. A short jacket fashioned on loose flare lines is also of the green satin and trimmed with bands of the embroidery.

The dyeing of wool for the making of Persian rugs is considered a fine art and the tribal dyer is regarded as a person of great importance.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia To Overcome Trouble, Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion.

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloat right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

Twenty-seven per cent of students enrolled receive an average of $35.88 in scholarship aid and in addition nearly $12,000 is loaned each year to juniors and seniors.

In early days all kinds of manual labor, especially chopping wood to clear the land, occupied the spare time of the students. Later the long Christmas vacation gave opportunity for country school teaching, which was the way the Hon. Theodore E Burton and others of the classes in the eighteen seventies helped themselves through their college education.

From the nineties on the variety of work has increased until the men are occupied in scores of employments. During his college days John M. Siddall, editor of the American Magazine, worked in the local printing office which still employes college students. During the college year waiting on table and washing dishes are the most popular employments due to the fact that they take the least time away from the vacation studies. Other activities during the school year and vacation are school teaching, office work, news reporting, selling aluminum, playground work, boys' and girls' camps, and about twenty or thirty other occupation in diminishing numbers. With the assistance of scholarship reduction granted on the basis of need and academic standing, 329 students pay about $135 each in tuition for education which costs the college more than $500 apiece.

OBERLIN PERSONALS

OBERLIN, May 18.—The Oberlin branch of the American Association of University Women will meet for dinner at the Cat and Fiddle, Friday evening, May 25 at 6:30 o'clock. There will be an election of officers. Mrs. Harriet E. Ballard of the Cleveland School of Education, will speak on "Health Education."

Frank Buckovac, 224 E. Lorain street, had a bone in the elbow of his left arm broken, Thursday, during a game of volley ball at the Pleasant street school. He is a sixth grade pupil.

The Music Memory contest given Thursday afternoon in Warner hall in which pupils from the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th grades participated, was won by Miss Askew's room of the eighthe pupils of the Prospect school. They will be presented a large silk banner, having the name of the building and the grade embroidered on it. Besides the banner, which will be given to the winning room ,each child making a perfect score will be given a beautiful badge.

Owing to the absence of Mr. Heydenburk from town, the Christian and Missionary Alliance services in the American Legion hall will be in charge of R. T. Thompson, a student in the college, next Sunday, May 20, both afternoon and night.

The bishop of Christ Episcopal church, South Main street, will confirm on Sunday evening, May 27.. Confirmation lecture will be given Monday evening at 7 o'clock, May 21st

The Association of Modern Language Teachers of the Central West and South, held a meeting in Chicago recently, at which time Prof. Aron read a paper on "Drill Exercises in Reading Texts."

Mr and Mrs. E. D Wright, former residents of Oberlin, who have been engaged in Y. M. C. A. work for the past three years in Narva, Esthonia, will return to this country about June 1st.

The W R. C. met today in the Post rooms.

The Portable-Centennial Parent-Teachers' meeting, the last of the semester, will meet this evening for a social time. There will be a short program, after which refreshments will be served. A cordial invitation is given to all connected in any way with these schools to enioe.

The high wind Tuesday blew in one window and cracked another in the sixth grade room of the Pleasant street school. No one was injured.

"Truxton King," presented in Finney chapel last evening, being the last of the Dramatic Association Better Movies for this year, was thoroughly enjoyed by the large audience who saw it.

Miss Julia Yontz, a June graduate from Oberlin college, will spend three months in Europe this summer, having been granted a traveling scholarship by the Bureau of University Travel.

Bronze is very old, but brass was unknown to the ancients. An ingredient of brass is zinc, which is one of the few metals extracted from the ore by distillation, and it has been available for only about a century.

Reduce Those Dangerous Swollen Veins

Doctor's Recent Discovery Also Heals Boils, Carbuncles, Abcesses, and Open Sores in a Few Days.

Physicians are prescribing and hospitals using a new and harmless, yet very powerful germicide that not only causes enlarged or varicose veins and bunches to become normal, but also reduces goitre, enlarged glands and wens.

Ask and first class druggist for an original two-ounce bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) and refuse to accept anything in its place. It is such a highly concentrated preparation that two ounces lasts a long time and furthermore if this wonderful discovery does not produce the results anticipated, you can have the price refunded.

It is not wise for anyone to allow swollen veins to keep on enlarging. Often they burst and cause weeks of pain, suffering and loss of employment. Start the Emerald Oil treatment as directions advise and improvement will begin at once. Your druggist can supply you.—Advt.

THE MEADOWS
LOTS 40x140—PRICE $75 to $295
Stop 74 Cleveland Road

Why not own a home where you have room for a garden, chickens and perhaps a cow. .Make the land help feed the family. Meantime the city is growing up to you and the home is all the while increasing in value. Every tree you set out, every shrub you plant, every hour you work and improve the place is putting extra dollars in your pocket. But this money profit is not all. You and your family have lived in the open country, breathed the fresh air, drunk pure, fresh milk, eaten fresh eggs, feasted on fresh vegetables of your own raising. You are the better physically and mentally for the experience. The Meadows—lots priced at $75 and up and a dollar or two a week will do all this for you. We sell you

A LOT FOR $1

Cash, then $1 per week until paid. No interest for one year. .No taxes for one year. No payments if you are sick or injured and unable to work. Restricted. Prices range from $75 to $295—a few Cleveland Road lots higher.

HOW TO GO: Drive east on Cleveland Road to car stop 74 and our large property sign, or take the city car to the end of the line at Cleveland Street and Abbey Road, then walk east on Cleveland Road to The Meadows, or take the Southwestern Interurban and get off at Stop 74. Salesmen on the ground every day from 1:30 until 8:00 p. m. All day Sundays.

TODAY'S RECIPES

Breakfast Prunes—Get a rather good sized prune, the kind the grocer calls a 40-50. Wash, soak over night. Do not plan to serve them the next morning, for a hot prune is liked by few people. During the day cook the prunes slowly. They will require almost no cooking. Add the sugar that is needed. Do not make them too sweet. If the family likes the flavor cook a small amount of fresh lemon slices with them. Be sure that there is not so much water that the juice is a thin, watery, brownish liquid. Set the prunes in a cool place. As they stand during the day the flavor blends throughout, making a rich glossy fruit for next morning's breakfast.

Parkerhouse Rolls—Three tablespoons butter, two tablespoons sugar, one teaspoon salt, two cups scalded milk; when lukewarm add one yeast cake, softened in one-quarter cup warm water, three cups flour. Beat well, cover, let rise until light, cut down and add two and one-half cups more flour. Knead and let rise to double amount. Roll one-third-inch thick, cut, spread half with butter, score through center and press edges firmly together. Bake fifteen minutes.

Potato Cheese Balls—This is a recipe for using up leftovers and may vary according to the ingredients you have. One cup cheese (scant), three cups potato (cold boiled), two slices stale bread, one green pepper. Put all through the food chopper then add one cup canned corn, salt and pepper to taste, mixed with one egg and sweet milk. Make into balls and fry until browned on both sides, in a well oiled pan. The first two ingredients (cheese and potato) were measured after putting through chopper. This may seem a strange mixture, but you will be surprised how very good it is; so different from the usual warmed over potato.

Steamed Chicken — Thoroughly clean and joint a chicken, roll each piece in flour and brown in drippings in a frying pan, sprinkle with salt. Pile on a pan and place in steamer and steam till tender.

Spinach—Wash thoroughly and put to cook in boiling, slightly salted water. Let it boil rapidly for ten minutes. Then drain it through a colander, pour cold water over it to blanche it and then prepare it in any desired way. It can be chopped and seasoned with butter, pepper and salt. It can be chopped and then heated in a saucepan with a tablespoonful of flour, two of butter and a cupful of milk for every half peck of spinach.

Suet Pudding—Two and one-half cups flour, one cup raisins, one cup sweet milk, one cup suet (chopped fine), one-half cup molasses, one-half cup brown sugar, one teaspoon soda, one-half teaspoon salt. Season to suit the taste with cinnamon and nutmeg. Put in well greased baking powder cans, filling about two-thirds full and steam for three hours. It is as good or better when warmed over as when fresh. Eat with cream and sugar, with warm lemon sauce or hard sauce.

LIMA, May 18.—All the property of William L. Russell, oil operator and financier who died here recently, was left to his widow, Mrs Beatrice King Russell, except $25,000 given to each of his two sons by his first marriage. Mrs A. K. Russell, Cleveland, his mother, was given an annuity of $150 a month for life. It is believed Russell left between two and three million dollars.

COOL WEATHER KEEPS GARDEN STUFF HIGH

The cool weather and cold rains of the past week has kept back garden stuff to such an extent that it is still fairly high in price, but the promise of warmer weather is expected to bring things forward with a rush.

At present there is a good supply of home grown rhubarb, asparagus and green onions. Hot house lettuce and tomatoes are also fairly plentiful. From the south come beets, turnips, and celery, but they are high at present.

Strawberries took a drop, and the Tennessee variety is selling at 25c a quart. The price will be lower during the coming week.

At the fish market there is the best assortment of the present season but the prices are the same except for Lake Superior trout which have advanced to 40c a pound. Meats are about the same, unless some particular market is making a special price on various cuts. It will pay the housewife to look over the prices on all food stuffs in today's paper.

TOLEDO ROBBER IS FOILED IN JAIL BREAK

COLUMBUS, May 18—Cowboy Rogers, Toledo postoffice robber who is serving 65 years in the Moundsville penitentiary, was frustrated in an attempted jail break from the Franklin county jail.

Rogers was being taken from Moundsville to Toledo as a witness in another case there. While Jailer Henry Beard was searching him, Rogers attempted to blind him by throwing pepper in his eyes. The officer caught his hand before the pepper was thrown. More than a pound of pepper was found when Rogers' pockets were searched. He was taken to Toledo.

BLAME UNION MEN IN VIZCAYA KILLING

MADRID, May 18.—Deputy Reguera, former governor of Vizcaya, was shot to death today. Trade unionists are said to have done the killing because of alleged persecutions by the official.

CONSULATE IN MEXICO BOMBED, ENVOYS ESCAPE

MEXICO CITY, May 18.—The United States consulate was partly wrecked by a bomb early today but no one was injured. The attack is regarded as the work of some individual, evidently a fanatic.

John Barton Payne and Charles Beecher Warren, United States commissioners attending the "recognition conference" with two Mexican commissioners, were notified of the explosion.

Warren said he felt sure that some disgruntled individual was responsible and that no organized plot existed.

It is possible that the bomb makers may have attempted to impede the work of the commissioners, but officials stated that the conference would continue as though nothing had happened.

One whole side of the consulate building was blown out. The explosion took place about 2.15 a. m. Investigation showed that the bomb evidently had been crudely constructed of black powder and was set off with a lighted fuse.

As the result of a climbing feat in England, an airplane, flying near Gloucestershire, recently reached 20,000 feet in 12 minutes and 24 seconds.

OUSTING OF MAYOR GRALL OF LORAIN UNDER ADVISEMENT

COLUMBUS, May 18—After conducting hearings relative to charges by prohibition commissioner McDonald of neglect of duty, Governor Donahey has ordered Mayor E. N. Fair, New Philadelphia, to either clean up that city within 30 days or get out of office. Pending further consideration by the governor, action in the case of Mayor Wililam F. Grall, Lorain, has been postponed.

Mayor Fair is charged with failure to maintain discipline in the New Philadelphia police department. Mayor Grall is accused of not enforcing the gambling and prohibition laws. A petition asking that Mayor Grail be removed from office has been received by Governor Donahey.

An opinion as to whether witnesses subpoenaed in the hearing held some months ago, resulting in the governor removing Mayor Herbert Vogt, Massillon, are entitled to fees and mileage, has been asked of the attorney general by Governor Donahey.

LORAIN, May 18.—Mayor Grall returned from Columbus after a conference with Gov. Donahey, yesterday, but it non-committal as to what took place. He was closeted with the governor for two hours. The governor announced that he would further investigate the charges against Grall before taking action.

Catcher Hank Severeid of the Browns says that the present heavy hitting is due to the ban placed on freak pitching, such as the spit ball, the shine ball and other trick stuff of the pitchers.

Put On a Paint That Stays Put

Hold on a minute, and say this to yourself before you put another cent into paint. Say that it costs just as much to put on a poor paint as a good one. Generally more.

A poor paint doesn't stay put. Doesn't, because you can't get out of anything what isn't in it. We have proven to our entire satisfaction that Lowe Brothers put stayputness in every gallon of paint they make.

Stay-put is just another way of saying it stands weather's wear and tear. Drop in and we will show you a color card and tell you some paint facts, which, have a notion you have never been told.

MY HUSBAND'S LOVE

Adele Garrison's New Phase of

Revelations of a Wife

Copyright, 1923, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Why Mrs. Durkee at First Felt Relief and Then Fear.

WITH a smile at the delicious absurdity of "Her Fluffiness." I turned the pages of the telephone directory until I came to the name she had given me.

"Dr. Philip Foxham — East Eighteenth street." I read. "Is that the man you mean?"

"Yes, oh, yes!" she replied eagerly. "Will you telephone him, Madge, please? You'll know what to say to him so much better than I will."

"Flatterer!" I said, smiling, as I took down the receiver and gave the number of a Gramercy exchange.

The crisp, yet pleasant voice of a woman, evidently a secretary or office nurse, answered:

"This is Dr. Foxham's office, yes."

There was the slightest upward inflection, and then a pause. She wasted no time on questions. I decided approvingly.

"I am speaking for Mrs. Durkee, of Marvin, L. I——"

"Tell him a friend of the late Mrs. Larkins, of Madison avenue." Mrs. Durkee prompted in a stage whisper, and I relayed the information with an impatience which I concealed from my little friend. Nothing so annoys me as to have some one talking to me when I am telephoning.

"Yes?" Again that faint upward inflection as I paused.

"Isn't He There?"

"She wishes to know if it will be possible for her to make an appointment for this afternoon. She is much troubled by pain underneath her arm, and she wishes a thorough examination."

"Please hold the line. I will find out."

Unconsciously I relaxed into the "at rest" position one adopts when waiting for a telephone message, and Mrs. Durkee's eyes widened in apprehension.

"Isn't he there?" she asked.

"Yes, yes," I reassured her. "The person who answered the telephone is asking him about it."

Her foot began tapping restlessly upon the floor, and I was again impressed with her extreme nervousness. I would have my work cut out for me, I told myself grimly, in the interval between this minute, and that in which I should turn her over to her family. The voice of the office woman was welcome when I next heard it.

"Dr. Foxham will see Mrs. Durkee at 2 o'clock this afternoon," she said with clear, slow enunciation.

"At 2," I repeated "Thank you," and the receiver at the other end clicked before I hung up my own. Mrs. Durkee had risen to her feet, and her hands were clasped in tremulous, frightened fashion against her breast.

Mrs. Durkee Helps.

"Does that mean he'll see me at 2?" she asked breathlessly, and at my affirmative nod, she held out her hands to me with a pathetic little gesture.

"I—I—wish I—hadn't," she said. "I'm—I'm afraid, Madge."

I crossed swiftly to her, and took her cold, trembling little hands in mine, holding them firmly.

"If you don't stop this nonsense, I won't go with you one step," I scolded, stooping to kiss her face, however, as I did so. "Now, I must hurry and clear things up here. There will be no use of coming back here after we go, but my packing won't take long. We're only living in suitcases here—we keep most of our things out home and Mother Graham parcel posts us anything we need. Just curl up on that couch while I 'fax around,' as Mrs. Ticer says."

"Indeed, I'll not," she said decidedly. "I should go wild lying here and thinking. Give me an apron, and I'll help right straight through with everything, only don't leave me alone."

"All right," I acquiesced, without further demur, for I saw that she was right—work would be the best thing for her.

And so for the next half-hour we washed and wiped dishes, made Dicky's bed and put everything in the little apartment in order. Then I spread some newspapers on Dicky's bed, set my traveling bag and suitcase on them, and taking down my clothing, began to pack for my journey.

"I'd only take a bag," I explained, "but almost every gown I have here needs mending or cleaning, and I've been so busy I've neglected them, so I'm taking them home with me."

"I think you're very wise," she replied grimly, "with these awful-looking people in the back. I wouldn't leave a thing worth taking. But," as I swung a wardrobe door wide, "surely you're not going to leave Dicky's evening clothes for somebody to steal while you're gone."

MOSCOW May 18.—George Tchitcherin, people's commissioner for foreign affairs in the soviet government, today sent a note to Switzerland, holding the Berne government responsible for the assassination of Vaslay Verovsky, Russian envoy to Italy, who was acting as observer at the Near East peace conference at Lausanne. The note demanded "dismissal of negligent officials" and punishment of the persons who were responsible for the killing.

ELMA ALLEN ASKS DIVORCE

Elma Allen in a suit against Robert J. Allen, charges him with cruelty and gross neglect. She alleges at the time of marriage he never had any intention of living with or providing for her. That he took various articles from her and sold them, and that he has brutally assaulted and beat her. The couple were married in January, 1922 She asks a divorce and alimony.

FIRST WOMAN GIVEN F. A. I. FLYING RIGHT

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 18 With one exception where great strength was required Women make as good aviators as do men Miss Amelia Earlhart, aviatrix, who has just been granted an F. A. I. flying license by the national aeronautic association of New York, said so today. The license gives Miss Earlhart an international permit for flying. She is the first woman flyer to be granted such a permit. During her test she attained a 14,000 foot altitude with a sixty horse-power air cooled motor.

"There is no logical reason why women should not make as good flyers as men," said Miss Earlhart. "A woman has endurance, skill and nerve. In many instances, I believe a 'nervy' woman will take more chances than the average man. As for women flyers during war time I sincerely believe women would prove invaluable as scout flyers over the enemy lines in light that machines comparatively easy to handle."

MOSCOW, May 18—Izvestia, one of the official newspapers through which the soviet government makes its public announcements, today issued warning that "a military offensive against Russia is possible."

He Cannot Escape!

No one can escape the fact that price is generally the criterion of quality. When an article is priced too low, you are naturally suspicious of its character. This is especially true with auto tires.

The kind we sell, cannot be bought at lower prices than ours anywhere.

If you stop to figure the amount you are saving by getting a tube free when you buy a Mason Cord, you will realize that you are indeed getting a REAL bargain and REAL merchandise.

For example, a 32x4 Mason tire will cost you $32.80 and we give you a $4.50 tube free. If you do not want the tube, you deduct the price of same, leaving net amount $28.30 for the tire. This offer good only during this month.

Come to the A. and A. when you need anything for your car, accessories, brake lining, bearings, piston rings, piston pins, Alemite parts, We carry everything in auto supplies from upholstering tacks to giant truck tires.

POLAND'S PIANIST STATESMAN MAKES NEW FORTUNE ON U. S. CONCERT TOUR

Ignace Paderewski and Mme. Paderewski, photographed as they sailed for Europe.

That Ignace Paderewski, famous Polish pianist and statesman, has partly recuperated the fortune he sacrificed in his effort to lead Poland to a firm footing, is indicated by the statement that the U. S. concert tour which he recently completed netted him $400,000. He sailed recently for Poland with Mme. Paderewski to rest up for another American tour. Paderewski threw his personal fortune into the cause when named premier of his country after the war.

DINNER STORIES

Two Irishmen were engaged to remove a piano from the fourth floor of a six-story apartment. Pat was big and husky. Mike, small and wiry. They rigged the tackle and descended to the street to lower the piano. The instrument became jammed in the window and Pat went upstairs to pry it loose, leaving Mike to tend the rope.

Pat shoved the piano out and down it went The weight of the instrument was too much for Mike and up he came. The piano hit the ground and smashed, freeing the rope, and down came Mike.

Pat rushed downstairs and found his friend lying on the ground He shook him and said, "Oh, Mike! Spake to yer ol' friend! Plase do!"

Mike opened his eyes and said, "Friend nothin'! I passed yer twice an' yer wudn't spake to me."—Judge.

Making the House a Home

BLENDING HOUSE AND GARDEN

Merged Into One Unit by New Plan.

MINIATURE LANDSCAPING

Beautiful Results Obtained in Small Lots by Placing of House and Planning of Garden

Bill and Jack both lived in a suburb 40 minutes from the city by the 7:30 and the 5:30. They had been in the habit of passing time on the train with a game of rhummy, but this morning Bill settled into his seat and pulled a set of blueprints out of his document case. When Jack came up the aisle Bill motioned him to a seat, with the words:

"No game this morning. I'm studying plans. Want to look at them with me? You may get the bug yourself. Sit down."

"Plans for what?" asked Jack, settling into the seat.

"Landscaping, building, furnishing, decorating. You know I bought a lot last fall. I've got it bad. Listen while I unfold the scheme. I've been studying the dope and I get it that we're all wrong in the way we live. For hundreds of years people have been building houses to be looked at—not to be lived in. Now the landscapers and the architects and the decorators have got together and worked out a scheme for merging the garden, porch and house into one another, so to speak, and making them a part of one another, so we can enjoy all of them."

"Interesting," put in Jack. "Shoot some more."

"Now this landscape artist says," went on Bill, "that you ought to place the house on the lot to suit your lot, not your neighbors. If you put the house to one side of the lot and near the front, you have the most of the lot for garden behind it. The artist has another idea, too. Says you ought to make your house front on the garden instead of the street. That way you can have big wide windows in your living room looking out over the garden and your porch on the garden side where you can look at flowers and trees when you are tired, instead of automobiles and baby carriages."

"That sounds good," said Bill, "but how are you going to do it? Put the kitchen in the front of the house?"

"That is just what a chap in Chicago advises you to do," said Bill.

"But, you wouldn't want to take your friends into the kitchen the first thing," objected Jack.

"That's the interesting part of it," Bill went on. "They've got that all planned out. You know most everybody nowadays is building small houses. They've figured out that the regulation hall is a big waste of space in the ordinary house. So they put a little entrance on the side of the house—have the kitchen and, say a bedroom in front. One entrance on the side and another through the porch from the garden are all the house really needs. You have a little vestibule just inside the door to keep out the cold. You can get into the kitchen from one side of the vestibule and into the rest of the house from the other. That's easily arranged. With the house to one side of the lot, you want a driveway on the other, and the iceman and the delivery boys can come around to the side of the house as well as to the back."

"Sounds reasonable," put in Jack. "Tell me some more."

"All right," Bill went on. "I'm just getting started. This landscape chap in Chicago says the thing to do is to merge the house and garden and to make the porch a step between them. You know how they build wide porches inclosed so you make a sort of a room of them. In the summer you can have your porch screened so you can sit there in the evening. Have it furnished up with pretty, light furniture. Then in the winter, you take down the screens, put up glass sash, and have a sun parlor or sleeping room porch. Just so, with this new way of building and living, my wife will make another set of cushions and hangings for the porch for cold weather, so when winter comes we have them [illegible] and cozy, instead of [illegible] and a[illegible]."

"What do you think of that?" interrupted Jack.

"Besides," Bill continued, "[illegible] worked out so [illegible] in such a way [illegible] get the sun [illegible] of the day, sum[illegible] [illegible] day. They [illegible] to the house." [illegible]

[illegible] had come to a stop.

"Well, you [illegible] letting me look at those [illegible]," [illegible]

IN FURNISHING ANY HOME

When you start furnishing any room in the house, it is necessary to begin with a definite idea of what effect is wanted, what type of furniture will be used to determine general effect, to obtain a harmonizing whole.

You would not want to copy your friend's or neighbor's scheme because you are seeking individuality for your own home. So just take time and think up your own which would be better suited to your taste.

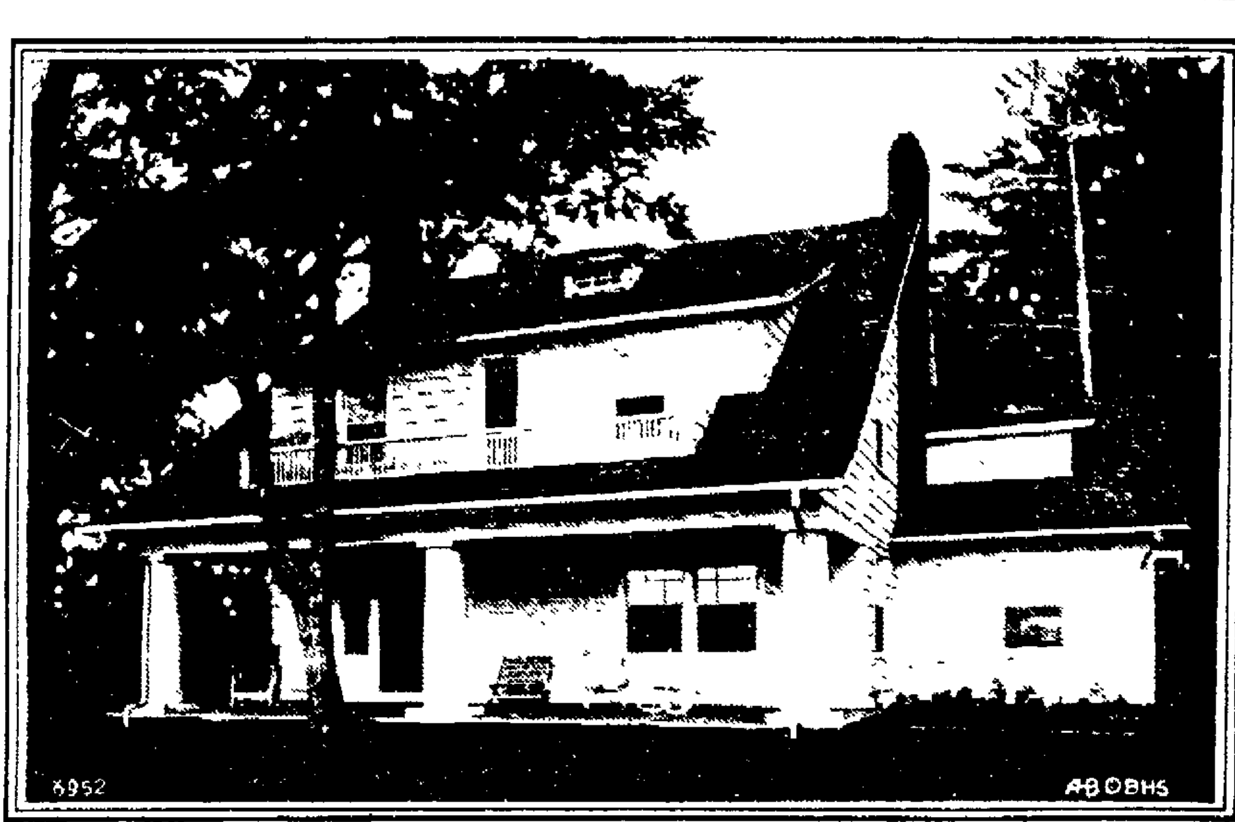
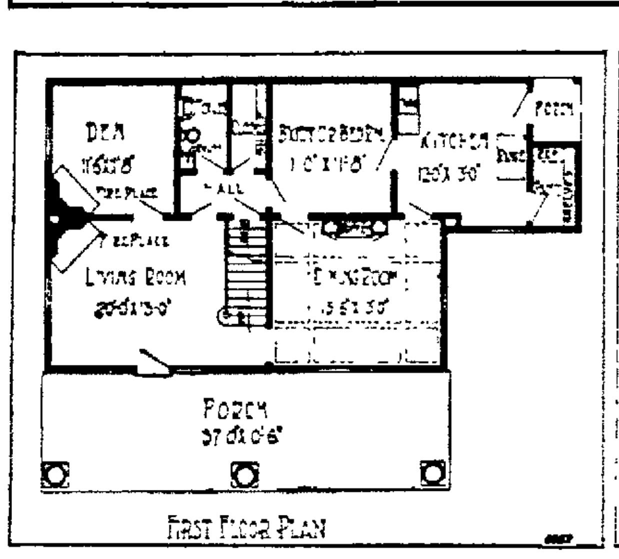
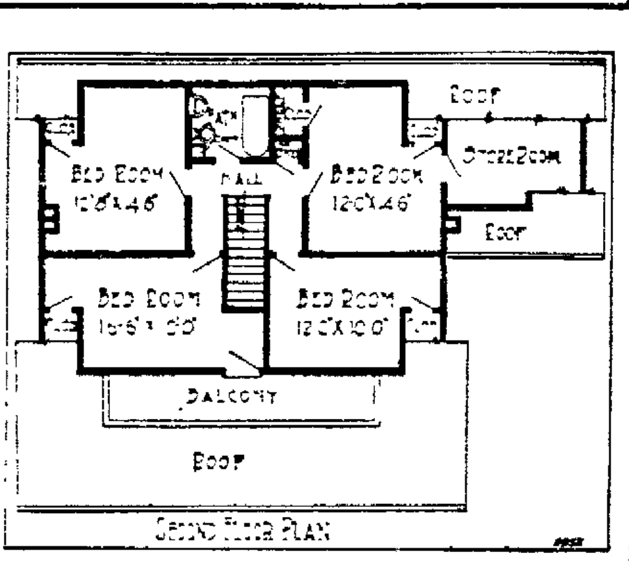
The Homelike Colonial House







By combining the simplicity of the Colonial house design with the long sweep of roof and the dormer windows that characterize the Dutch school of architecture, American architects have produced what is generally termed the "Dutch Colonial" home. An excellent example of this type of house is shown in the illustration above. Here are the wide, deep porch at the grade line, the Colonial columns supporting the porch roof, the graceful sweep of the roof from the ridge of the house, the wide dormer in the second floor, and the clapboard siding that are symbolic of the early home building designs of New England.

This home is not only unusually attractive from the exterior, but contains nine rooms arranged for comfort and convenience. The entrance door leads from the front porch into the living room, which is rather large, 13 by 20 feet. Back of the living room at the end is a den, 11 feet 6 inches, by 11 feet 8 inches. The fireplace is set so that it has an opening into both of these rooms. To the right of the living room at the front is the dining room, 13 by 15 feet 6 inches. This room is Colonial in design, having a beam ceiling. Directly back of the dining room is the kitchen, while adjoining it is a breakfast room, or a bedroom as the owner desires. An open stair out of the living room leads to the second floor where there are four good-sized bedrooms, the bathroom and a store room over the kitchen. A better idea of the room arrangement may be obtained by a study of the floor plans that accompany the exterior view. The dimensions of the house are 49 by 26 feet.

While this is a rather large home for the average family, it is one that is convenient for the housekeeper and has an exterior appearance of which the owner may be proud. What such a house will cost may be determined by consulting an architect, a building contractor or a building material dealer. All of these men are building specialists and their advice will be found well worth while by the prospective home builder. Costs of building vary in different places, governed by the distance from the source of material supply, labor conditions and the character of the woodwork the owner desires.

(Any reader interested in this plan can obtain an exact estimate of its cost at the present time from any responsible architect, contractor or lumber dealer, who can obtain complete working drawings and specifications at a reasonable cost by communicating with this paper.)

ACHIEVING SUCCESS IN THE LIVING ROOM

Grouping of Furniture in Hospitable Units Makes Homey and Livable Room.

The room looked messy. Her own description was not far from the mark when she said: "It looks as though it had been arranged by a young, inexperienced cyclone." Yet the house, and the room itself was very attractive, and the worried mistress decidedly so. She also possessed excellent taste, but that room had been a poser for her. It was a large room; woodwork white, walls well decorated with a quiet, self-toned paper, and the furniture selected with discrimination. It was a long room and perhaps a trifle narrow, but this had been corrected by a ceiling beam across each end supported on columns, which formed a mantel alcove at one end and a window nook at the other.

So far the effect was good, but when the furniture was sent in chaos reigned. There did not seem to be an overdose, but everything seemed to get in its own way. Chairs, tables, lamps, piano and sofas, all seemed undecided as to where they belonged and just stopped where they were, to think it over. The servants and the casters were fairly worn out by endless movings around, but still things would not locate.

Arranging for People.

It did not take long to analyze the difficulty. The young homemaker had made the mistake of thinking in terms of furniture, instead of people. She did not arrange the pieces but just sprinkled them around the room until one needed a chart to get across; to do this without collision was an accomplishment. Attacked from the standpoint of comfort and convenience, the problem was quickly solved. The large sofa was swung around square in front of the fireplace, giving a cozier effect to the alcove, and a long table was placed back of it to provide a place for lamps, books and other needs of a comfortable corner. At the window nook a medium-sized round table was placed convenient to the seats which surrounded the space, and with a few large lounging chairs drawn up, that corner became interesting.

The maid was called in and the piano moved to a position near the middle of one of the long walls, where a window cast ample light on the keyboard during the day, and a convenient base receptacle provided current for a stand lamp at night. The music cabinet was placed next the wall within easy reaching distance of the piano bench and a couple of chairs drawn up nearby for the benefit of music lovers. A side table, a mirror and two straight chairs were marshaled against a wall space that had hitherto eluded all attempts at subjugation. Then from the number of chairs and miscellaneous objects that had been banished to the hall during these operations, one piece after another was brought in and tucked away where they seemed likely to do the most good and be most out of the way, and a few that seemed inclined to make nuisances of themselves finally disappeared in the direction of the attic.

Grouping Solves Problem.

When the job was completed, we stood in the hall doorway and looked it over. Several distinct centers had been arranged so that one group might be gathered in front of the fire, while another was [illegible] a game of [illegible] the room and the musically inclined could use the piano. Best of all, there was room to get around without climbing over people or moving them.

It was so simple that she wondered why she had [illegible] before. The answer was [illegible] had been thinking [illegible] terms and had been trying [illegible]. She [illegible] instead of [illegible] into small [illegible] a place. [illegible] free to move [illegible] she would probably [illegible] room just [illegible] furniture left much as [illegible] ranged it.

Restful Dining Room

GIVE HIM AN EASY CHAIR

If there is anything more luxurious to the [illegible] than an easy chair which admits of a comfortable tilt and is well adapted for resting, [illegible] article of furniture yet to be discovered.

No statistical study of the relation between [illegible] to go out evenings and the lack of comfortable chairs in the home has ever been made, but there is no doubt in the minds of those who have given the subject thought that more than a casual relationship exists between the two.

When the corner saloon was operating, one thing always to be observed was the comfort of the [illegible]. The proprietor knew better than to [illegible] the [illegible] of his [illegible].

And after sitting through the [illegible] of the evening on straight, hard chairs at home, it was small wonder that father would put on his coat and [illegible] that he was "just going around the corner for a little while" and would be back shortly. [illegible] sometimes [illegible] but father [illegible] into the comfortable curves of a real chair was unmindful of the time.

If the man of the house doesn't have a favorite chair—if he seems to be just as willing to sit in one place as another—there is something vitally wrong to be remedied.

STANDARD TERMS FOR FURNITURE

Aid in Eliminating Errors and Misunderstandings.

THEIR MEANINGS DEFINED

Knowledge of Correct Names of Various Pieces and Furniture Trade Terms Is of Great Value to Homemaker.

The following definitions of wood and finishes have been adopted by the National Council of Furniture Manufacturers and the National Council of Chair Manufacturers for use in the furniture trade. By studying these definitions, homemakers may avoid misunderstandings in buying furniture:

Solid—Furniture designed as solid mahogany or solid walnut shall have all exposed surfaces of solid wood of the kind designated.

Mahogany or Walnut—Furniture designated as mahogany or walnut shall have all exposed surfaces (both solid parts and plywood) of the kind of wood designated.

Combination—Furniture designated as combination mahogany or walnut shall have all exposed surfaces of mahogany or walnut (solid or plywood) in combination with gum, birch or other suitable wood. The kinds of woods used in combination with mahogany or walnut should be named as "Combination mahogany and birch" and "Combination walnut and gum."

Imitation—Furniture designated as imitation mahogany or walnut shall be that with exposed surfaces of other woods colored to imitate mahogany or walnut. Where other woods are used the name of this wood is to be substituted for that of mahogany or walnut in the definitions.

The terms "exposed surfaces" shall mean those parts of furniture which are exposed to view when the piece is placed in the generally accepted position for use in the home.

Bureau—An old French name for a desk. Here the words bureau and dresser, an article of furniture for the bedroom, are used interchangeably.

Chaise Longue (Long Chair)—A double or couch chair, or couch with chair back at one end.

Chiffonier—A French word derived from chiffon. It is applied to a type of wardrobe with drawers, or a combination of drawers, and space for hanging clothes. The man's chiffonier is sometimes called a chifforobe.

Davenport—A Boston upholsterer produced a type of couch so deeply and handsomely upholstered that it took his name. The Davenport bed is a combination Davenport and bed.

Gateleg Table—A table in which the drop leaves are supported by hinged arms on each side, supported by legs. It is in use for living-room tables and to some extent for small dining room and breakfast-room tables. It has been changed but little from its early forms, and is a development of the Jacobean period. It is said that the Declaration of Independence was written on a gateleg table.

Highboy—A high chest of drawers. The name is derived from French words, meaning high or tall wood. The lowboy denoted a low chest of drawers.

Martha Washington Cabinet—A combination of a small table and cabinet for needlework, modeled after one used by Martha Washington.

Morris Chair—A deep armchair with adjustable back and usually loose cushions. It was invented by William Morris, an English designer and writer.

Pembroke Table—A long, square sided table with oval or square ends. The leaves at one side drop almost to the floor. It was named for Lady Pembroke, who ordered the first in the Seventeenth century. It is a popular breakfast table.

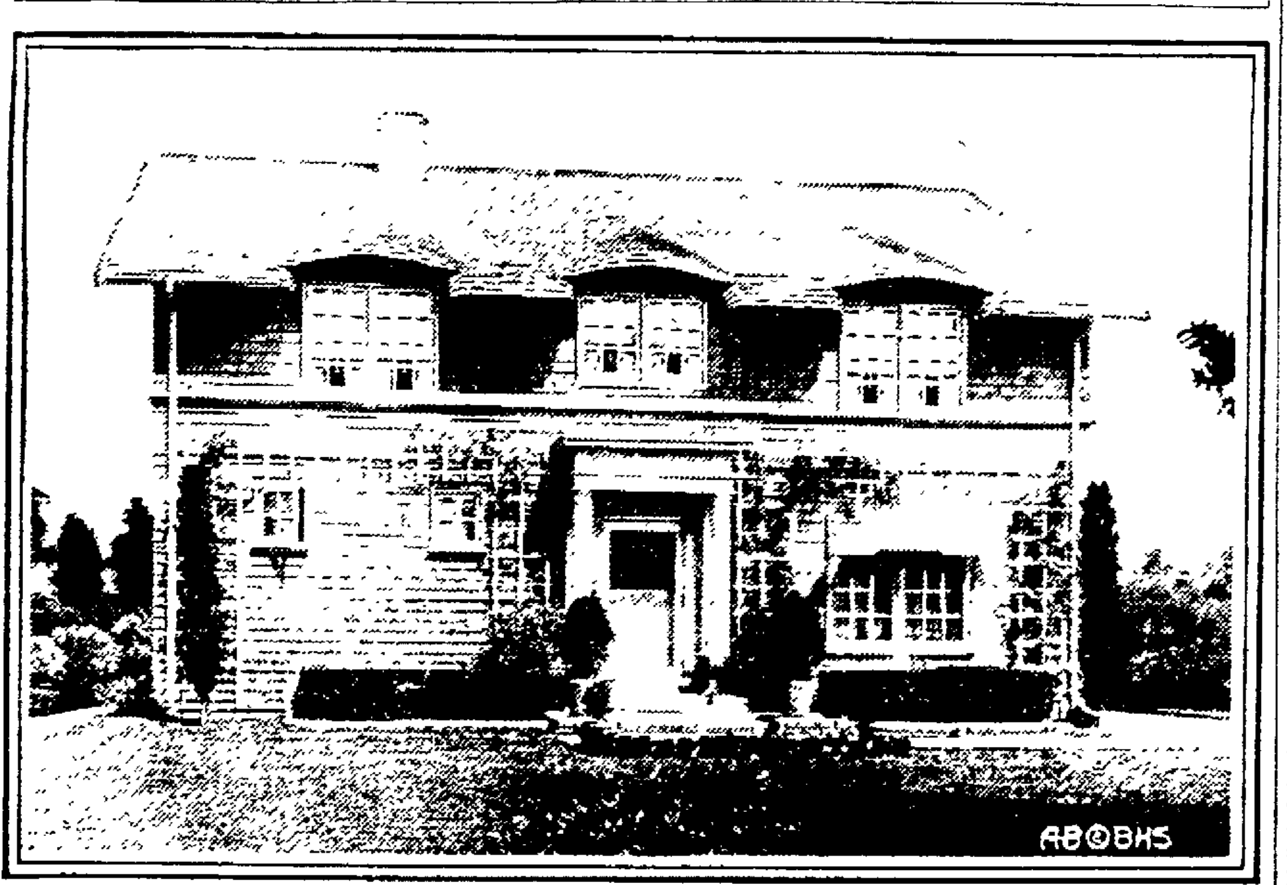
Pie Crust Table—It is so called because the edge is finished off in scrolls or curves like the crimping on the edge of pie crust.

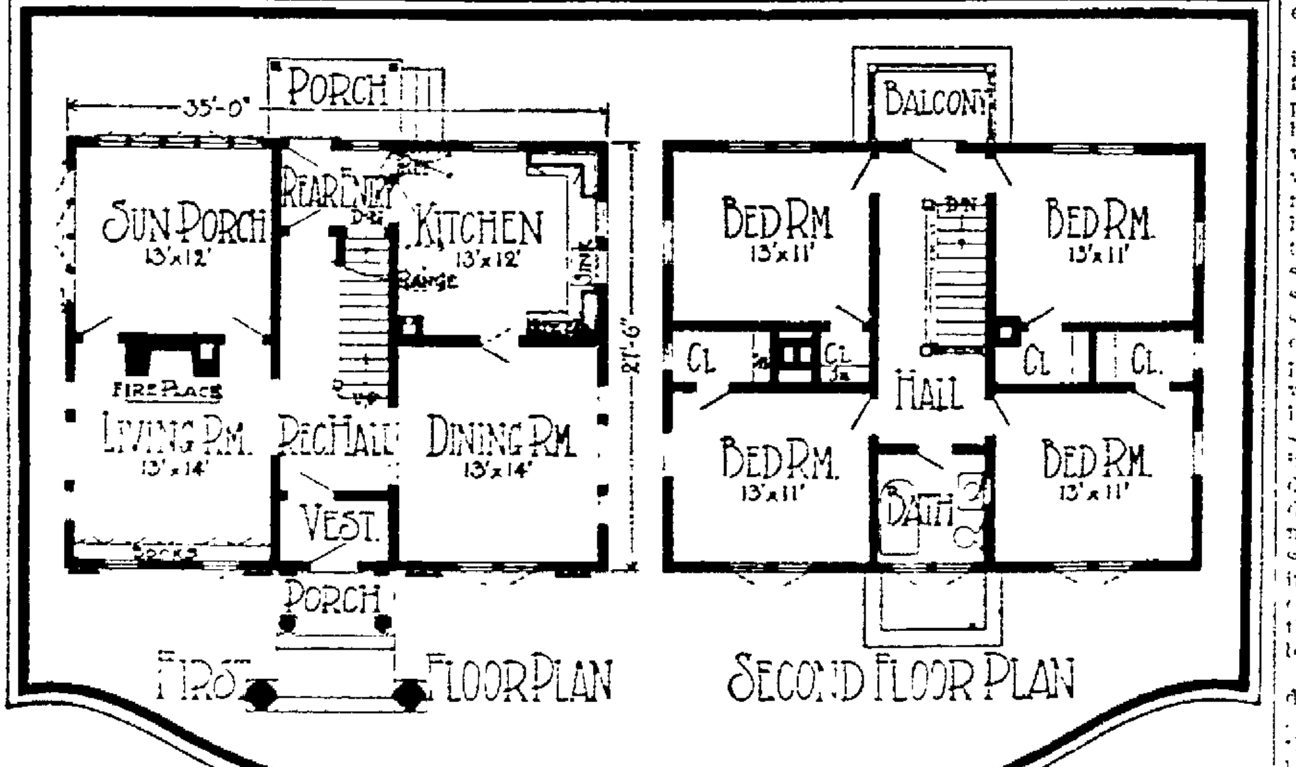
Roundabout (or corner) Chair—A chair made to fit in a corner. The center of the seat in front as well as the back is at angles to the seat and the back extends in two sides against the wall. It was widely executed by Chippendale.

A Pretty Bedroom

Gayly Finished Furniture and Appropriately Bright Wallpaper, Rugs and Drapes Make This Delightful Bedroom.

Practical Family Home





Shingles make attractive exterior walls for a home. Whether painted or allowed to take on the hue that comes when they are exposed to the weather, shingles are attractive, for the reason that they give the vine-clad cottage effect to the home. Where shingles are exposed to the salt sea air they become silvered, and increase in beauty with age. This effect can now be gained artificially, so that many Colonial style houses are constructed with shingled exteriors, the shingles being treated chemically before they are put on.

What the effect is gained by the employment of this type of exterior wall materials is shown in the accompanying illustration of a two-story house. While the exterior of this home is not true Colonial, because of the lack of balance of the windows, a feature generally found in this style of architecture, the interior follows the Colonial, as do the windows of the second floor.

This home is a rectangular building 25 by 27 feet, 6 inches. It is of frame construction, and would be a rather plain house were it not for the entrance porch, the trellis and the thatched roof effect. These features, coupled with the lawn plantings make this an unusually charming home from the exterior.

The house contains seven rooms and bath and a sun parlor. The entrance is in the center of the house. Back of the vestibule there is a reception hall, with the living room to the left and the dining room to the right. The living room is only 13 by 14 feet, but French doors on either side of the fireplace which is set into the inside wall connect the living room with a large sun parlor, making the two into practically one room. As the sun parlor is about the same size as the living room, the two combined provide a large amount of room. The dining room is a corner room at the front, size 13 by 14 feet. Back of it is the kitchen, 12 by 13 feet.

Upstairs there are four bedrooms, all of the same size, 11 by 11 feet. Each room opens off the central hall and each is a corner room, providing plenty of ventilation and light. The bathroom is in the center of the house at the front, while at the rear over the back porch is a balcony.

While this is a rather unusual home, it is one that will be found most satisfactory.

PAINT AND ITS MAGIC POWER

Its Use an Investment That Pays Dollar for Dollar.

NEVER CAN BE AN EXPENSE

Keeps the Home Bright and Attractive and Protecting the Exposed Surfaces Saves Many Repair Bills.

If there is any one element more necessary than paint—both inside and outside—in the process of making a house into a home, it has not yet been discovered.

All about us there are the "ugly ducklings" which might be transformed into beautiful homes and attractive rooms merely by the application of the proper paint. A fresh coat of paint works magic, and there is always the reflection that while the artistic sense is being gratified in the process, even more than beauty, there is the utility to be considered. Painting is not an expense—it is an investment which gives a definite tangible return in dollars and cents. Wooden surfaces, left bare and exposed deteriorate through the action of the atmosphere and the wood is subjected within short time to cracking and warping. Moisture seeps into the pores of the wood, and shortly it begins to rot. When properly protected, wood can be made to last almost indefinitely, as may be seen from the Mount Vernon home of George Washington. Built nearly 150 years ago, the timbers in it are still sound because of the periodical application of paint.

The function of paint is to close the pores of the wood, and to interpose a nonabsorbative layer of material between the wood and the atmosphere. For that reason, aside from the color of the pigment, which is a matter of choice, good paints usually have as a base a thick liquid known as linseed oil, a product of flax seed. This oil has the property of combining with oxygen, and when dry forming a waterproof, gumlike substance, hard and impervious to moisture.

Before the day of extensively manufactured paints, the amateur painter was often forced to mix his own paints. This involved considerable skill, sometimes more than he possessed, but at the present time, there is no reason why any of the reputable paint-makers should not be patronized.

Cheap paints are more expensive in the long run, for they do not last, and after a short time they chalk, crack or peel. Good paint will last for years, and it will be a wise economy that dictates the purchase of good paint from a reliable firm. A gallon of paint, when properly applied, will cover about 350 square feet of surface, two coats. A method of computation which will easily enable anyone to estimate the amount of paint required is as follows:

Estimating Painting Surface.

Measure the width of the front of the building, and the width of the rear; the length of one side and then the length of the other. Add these figures, and then multiply the total by the number of feet in the height of the building. The result will be the number of square feet of surface. For two coats of paint, divide this number by 350, and the answer will be the number of gallons required. If only one coat is desired, divide by 600 instead of 350. Paint for trimming purposes and cornices will require about one-sixth of the amount necessary for the body of the house.

If the wood to be painted is new, it is essential that the priming, or first coat of paint, should be applied without delay after the lumber has been exposed to the air. All woodwork should be brushed off with a dustbrush or cloth to remove the fine dust which may adhere. All resinous, sappy spots in the lumber, particularly the knots, should be gone over with a coat of shellac varnish, obtainable at any store carrying paints. The orange or white tint is the best. The application of this priming coat, which is to be of linseed oil, with a little tinting of some color added so that the progress of the painting may more easily be determined, does not require so much skill as it does "elbow grease." Bearing in mind the fact that the oil is to serve as the base for the succeeding coats—that it is to fill the pores of the wood—it is apparent why the priming coat should be well brushed into the wood.

The priming should be allowed to dry perfectly before another coat is applied. This means more than that the paint should feel dry to the hands. What actually happens during the drying process of paint is that but very little of the oil is evaporated. Instead, the oil dries by absorbing oxygen from the atmosphere, this process resulting in a new compound—hard and waterproof, but still having a measure of elasticity. After the first coat has dried for nine or ten days it is then time to look to the cracks, holes and open joints. Putty, which can be cheaply purchased, is used for this purpose, and a putty-knife, or a similar implement, is utilized to smooth off the surface. The wood is now in condition to receive the second coat of paint. This coat should cover the priming solidly and should be fairly well brushed out.

Another period of ten days should elapse before the final coat is applied.

BRIGANDS SLOW IN RELEASING CAPTIVES

Fear It Will Be Another Week or Ten Days Before People Are Freed

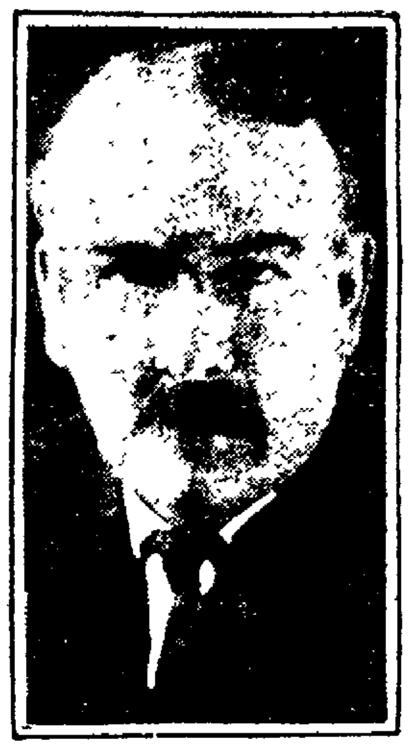
SHANGHAI, May 18 —American and other foreign captives held by Chinese bandits are detained in an old temple on the Patt Zuku mountain, and it is feared that a week or ten days must elapse before they are released, according to information received today from Lloyd Lehrbas. The bandits converted the mountain top into a fortress.

Food Supply Low

Lehrbas, who is a newspaper man, was captured by the bandits, but escaped He went from Shanghai to Tsaochwang, not far from the bandit stronghold, there to investigate and give what aid he could It was from that town he sent his information.

Mrs. Robert A. Allen.

According to latest reports the prisoners had only two days food supply. The only water came from a small spring at the foot of the mountain which yields a gallon an hour



Rev. Frank W. Pratt,

The prisoners sleep in the temple doors The weather on the mountain top is cold and blankets are scarce. There is considerable discomfort.

May Send Supplies

Negotiations for the release of the prisoners are deadlocked. The officials are charged with making only a pretense at a settlement. The regular troops have not been withdrawn, although the government representatives promised the bandits that this would be done. They still surround the mountains at Paotzuku.

Miss Minnie McFadden.

Carl Crow, of the American chamber of commerce of Shanghai, and Lehrbas organized an express service to get daily rations thru the bandit lines to the prisoners.

In Sweden, unless the person wanted by the police is a desperate criminal, his arrest is usually deferred until night, in order that he shall be spared the ignominy of being marched captive through the streets before the gaze of curious onlookers.

The raising of peanuts has developed into an important industry in China. Last year's crop amounted to nearly half a million tons.

CRACK CLEVELAND CLASS AA CHAMPS PLAY HERE SUNDAY

It is very evident that Mr. H. D. Evans, who has succeeded "Bill" Struck as manager of the Elyria I. T. S. ball team, does not intend that his team shall have any easy picking for he has booked the Pennsylvania Railroad Co.'s team as the attraction at Riverview Park next Sunday. It will be recalled that the P. R. R. club won first honors in class A. A. of the C. A. B. & A. A. last year, and they are the prime contenders for the same title this year.

Mr. Evans has received quantities of letters from high class ball teams in Cleveland and other sections of the state, requesting a game with the Elyria Club, and each of these better class ball teams are real expensive aggregations to bring to our city. The P. R. R. Co.'s outfit is no exception to this rule, so Mr. Evans very wisely decided to get the very best that was possible for next Sunday to actually test the ability of his own boys, as it has been proven by the two games of this season, that the Elyria Club far outclasses the best that either Lorain or Akron has to offer in baseball.

The P. R. R. Co.'s players are very popular in Cleveland and have a large following who will probably accompany their favorites to Elyria and help them with their rooting, but they will find that Elyria has its loyal supporters who never take a back seat when rooting is in order.

The line-up and batting order, also probable pitching selections will be announced in Saturday's issue of the Chronicle-Telegram.

PRINCETON TIGER NINE WIN THIRD STRAIGHT

The Princeton Tigers won their third game of the season last evening by defeating East Side Giants again. The score was 5 to 2. Life got his second home run in two days.

Giants ..... 0 1 0 1 0 0 0—2 6
Tigers ..... 0 1 0 1 0 1 2—5 7

Batteries—Giants: Britch, pitch; and McHale, catch. Tigers: Life, pitch and L. Brown, catch.

The Princeton Tigers defeated the East Side Giants on Wednesday evening despite the fact it rained all the time. The score being 29 to 14. Life and H. Dumstan taking the batting honors, the former with a triple and homer and latter with two homers and double.

Giants ... 3 4 0 0 0 3 4—14 16

Batteries—Giants. Sanford and Smith, Britch. Tigers: L. Brown and Life, A. Brown.

Tagging the Bases

It remained for Dick Rudolph, baseball's octogenarian, pitching his first complete game in four years, to shut out the Pirates, 1 to 0, ten innings and halt Charley Grimm's hitting rampage. Grimm had hit safely in 25 straight games.

The Yanks made it two in a row from the Browns, hitting Shocker, their arch-enemy, at will and winning, 9 to 2. Ruth hit his fifth homer of the season.

Every one took a swing during the course of the Giants 13 to 6 victory over the Reds, home runs rattling off the bats of Meusel, Roush and Kelly.

The Senators pulled out a 3 to 2 decision over the White Sox in the tenth, Evans providing the winning run with a sacrifice fly.

Lefty Heimach did not have a great deal to do with the Athletics 4 to 2 victory over the Indians, except that he held the latter to four hits in addition to scoring a run after hitting a triple in the third and doubling with two on in the ninth.

The Cardinals rode hard on Grimes in the seventh, scoring five runs and beating the Dodgers, 6 to 3.

Cy Williams smote his fourteenth home run of the campaign but the Phils lost with their customary facility, the Cubs winning this time, 7 to 4. Alexander of the Cubs passed three men in the sixth after pitching fifty one innings without issuing a base on balls or hitting a batsman.

Baseball Chatter

Fred Clarke, the old Pittsburgh manager, attended the recent Pirates-Giants series in New York.

'Tis a safe bet that no American league team will figure the Athletics a set-up from now on.

Begins to look as if the Red Sox and White Sox will have to battle each other to keep out of the cellar.

Bill Bagwell of the Braves has become a great favorite with Boston fans through his ability to plaster the ball.

Zach Wheat, Brooklyn walloper and one-time champion batsman, is duplicating Jess Willard's comeback stunt.

The Phillies have been hitting in fine shape, but their pitchers don't appear able to hold the opposing outfit.

The Detroit club paid $750 for Ty Cobb in 1906, which is some contrast to the huge sums paid for minor league talent nowadays.

Texas league teams have been getting most of the Giants' castoffs. Among them are several who should go big in the minor leagues.

Dave Bancroft, McGraw's great shortstop, is a wizzard in heaving the ball to first from any old position or any part of the field.

Princeton and Boston College, the two best college ball teams in the East, are running a neck-and-neck race in the winning of consecutive games.

If Pitcher Donohue of the Cincinnati Reds continues his brilliant work he will be there or thereabouts when the figures denoting leading pitchers are given out.

Few managers can keep step with Branch Rickey when it comes to changing pitchers during a game. One wobble of a Cardinal heaver and out he goes.

Of late the Yankees have been winning games when outhit by their opponents. Putting over this stuff must mean that the Yanks have become a smart ball team.

Claiming that Statz is the best golfer in the major leagues, members of the Cubs are willing to back their team-mate against any other big leaguer in a match for real mazuma.

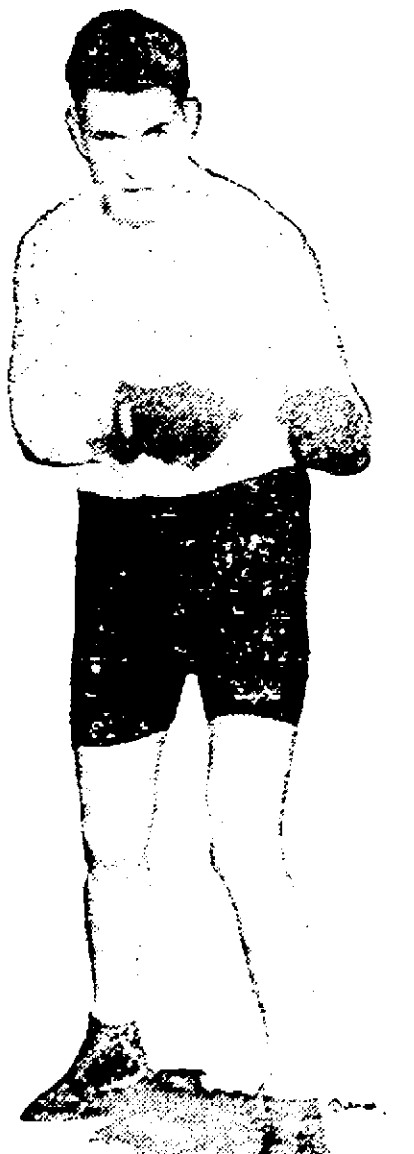
"I CAN LICK HIM ONE HANDED," SAID GENE—AND DID



Gene Tunney.

When Gene Tunney, former light heavyweight champ, signed up to fight Jimmy Delaney in Chicago the other night Gene remarked, "I can lick him one-handed." When the fight came off in Chicago Tunney broke his right hand in the second round. Despite this he outpointed Delaney in the ten-round fracas.

WILLIAMS, THY NAME IS HOMER

Two years ago the word Ruth was synonomous with Home Run. Last year several gentry tried to link their names with the word. Ken Williams of the Browns, Long George Kelly, Tilly Walker and others stepped into the limelight as circuit clouters. This season, however, the two Williams boys, Kenneth of the Browns and Cy of the Phillies, are hogging the spotlight.

OBERLIN STAR TO COACH THE CASE ELEVEN

Winters Is Newest Addition to Scientists' Football Coaching Staff

CLEVELAND, May 18.—The prospects for a real championship football contender for Case school this fall appears to be on the horizon as besides having fourteen lettermen back for the 1923 season, the Scientists will have Arthur R. Winters, all around Oberlin athlete, as amember of its coaching staff.

Athletic Director Pat Pasini made this announcement public last night after President Charles Howe of the college made the appointment final. Winters will take the place of Goldie Metcalf, also a former Oberlin football and track star, who has resigned to take post graduate work at Columbia university.

Winters has shown his ability as an all around athlete at Oberlin and should be a very capable man to replace Metcalf. While at Oberlin he has won three letters in football, track and basketball. He played both end and tackle on the Oberlin teams and has been one of the mainstays of the line on the the gridiron in the last three years. Winters has also played a stellar basketball game and captained the Oberlin quintet the last season. In track his specialty was the weights.

Winters has not only been a prominent athlete at Oberlin but has also been one of the most popular men on the campus. He has been active in other campus activities and the last season was elected to the presidency of the Oberlin Senate.

The addition of Winters to the Case coaching staff should play a big part in the success of the Case football team this fall as it will be the line that will need the most attention and especially the ends and tackles which were the weak spots last fall. Coach Canfield will have a strong backfield with Capt. Bill Gribben as nucleus.

COUNTY FIELD MEET IS IN PROGRESS

2,000 Children With Parents and Teachers at Riverview Park; Is Basket Affair

At last two thousand children, their parents and teachers are attending the field day events and track meet of the county district schools at Riverview park today. They are a jolly bunch and are having a world of fun riding on the merry-go-round, roller skating, and watching the various events. All of them brought their dinners and a regular picnic day was enjoyed as the weather is perfect.

During a part of the morning the preliminaries of the field events were pulled off, and at 12:30 a grand parade participated in practically by all the children, marched around the half mile track. They extended nearly all the way around there being about one thousand children in line. Most of them wore bright colored paper caps, and sashes, and a banner at the head of each contingent told where they were from. Schools from Amherst township, Avon Lake, Brighton, Camden, Columbia, Eaton, Elyria tp., Brownhelm, Sheffield, Vincent, Sheffield Center, LaGrange, Penfield, Lake Breeze, Russia, North Russia, South Amherst, Penfield Junction, the Markley school, Elyria tp., and Chestnut Grove were in line. As they passed the grand stand they each gave their school yell. A feature of the parade was the drill and large flag carried by South Amherst girls, and two small wagons drawn by Chestnut Ridge boys. One wagon had a small school house labeled 1870, and the other a much larger school of today marked, "Watch Us Grow."

After the parade boys and girls from the 7th and 8th grades of the various centralized schools gave a scarf drill in front of the grand stand under supervision of C. E. Webb, of LaGrange. It was a creditable performance, and received well merited applause from the spectators.

This afternoon the final events will be completed, and the results will be publisheo tomorrow.

The Tigers gained a 6 to 2 verdict over the Red Cox. Hellmann's hitting streak was broken after 21 games.

Hazen Eliminates American Rival

LEEDS, England, May 18.—Waltre Hagen, American golfer, who holds the British open championship defeated Gene Sarazen, American open champion today, three up and one to play in the semi finals of the professional tournament held under the auspices of the Yorkshire Evening News.

Earlier in the day Sarazen defeated Ockenden, 5 up and three to play and Hagen defeated Havers at the nineteenth hole after an uphill fight.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE TO COAL DEALERS

Sealed bids will be received by J. R. Wilmot, Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds of the Board of Education of the City School district of Elyria, Ohio, until 12 o'clock, noon, June 15, 1923, for the necessary coal for use in the City Schools during the school year beginning September 1, 1923.

The coal shall be supplied under the following conditions and all bids made shall be held to include the requirements herein stipulated.

Bids are desired covering 1000 tons of 1 1-4" steam coal and 1200 tons of nut coal, more or less, it being the intention that any contract arising from said bids will cover all the coal for the use of the schools necessary for the school year.

Bidders must state in their proposals the brand of coal or at least the name and location of the mine from which the same will be supplied, and if of more than one brand, or from more than one mine, they must state the approximate amount they propose to furnish from each.

The price to be per ton of 2000 pounds net weight. All coal to be weighed on scales to be selected by the Supt. of Buildings and Grounds. The custodian in charge of the school buildings to be supplied with a copy of the weigh bill and upon said duplicate weigh bills payment will be made.

Each car of coal furnished by the contractor during the continuance of any contract that may be entered into, may be sampled by the Supt. of Buildings and Grounds or his authorized agent, and tested to determine its heat value, and if the coal shall be found to be of a quality inferior to the grade offered, the price to be paid shall be reduced at the option of the Supt. of Buildings and Grounds in the proportion in which said coal so furnished shall differ from the coal offered by the bidder.

All bids shall include the delivery at the respective buildings as directed by the Supt. of Buildings and Grounds, and be understood to cover all necessary reshovelling in the bins.

Shipment and delivery of coal shall be made at such time and in such quantities as required by the Supt. of Buildings and Grounds, provided that all orders shall be delivered within ten days from receipt of order to deliver.

By order of the Elyria City Board of Education.

S. S. ROCKWOOD,
Clerk.

State Briefs

MARTINS FERRY, May 18.—The rear of an auto truck speeding around a curve on a hill road west of here struck a touring car occupied by Jesse Walters and five members of his family. The auto was brushed off the road and over an embankment. Turning over twice, the machine landed among some trees, without injury to any-one.

WOODSFIELD, May 18.—Judge R. M. Wanamaker, of the Ohio supreme court, will deliver the commencement address here May 18. The high school will graduate 65, and the Monroe county normal school 30.

LIMA, May 18.—Justice of the Peace William H. Guytong has made it a rule never to sentence a man to remain in jail over Sunday and be away from his family, in case he could not provide bond. Four Lima chiropractors, brought before Justice Guyton, were fined $25 and costs, the minimum, for practicing without a license. Guyton says his motto is "to observe the golden rule and let a little sunshine in."

MIDDLEPORT, May 18.—Wm. Lucky, 89, the mystery man of the Meigs county poor house, is no more. He was buried in Potters' field without a tear of a mourner. No one knew where he was born, or whether he had any relatives. In his long stay at the infirmary he refused to tell anything about himself.

LIMA, May 18.—After remaining loyal to Richard McCormick through a term of years he served in the Ohio penitentiary, Mrs. Marcell McCormick has filed suit for divorce on grounds of cruelty. She says that her husband beat her and the children.

DEFIANCE, May 18.—William J. Harris, from Texas, who has been held here for three months under indictment of fraudulent sale of oil stocks to Hicksville residents, has furnished a $1000 reduced bond, and returned to Texas. The trial is scheduled for this fall.

Optical Announcement

For nearly 30 years we have examined EYES and corrected errors of refraction with correctly fitted GLASSES. We take great pride in the success and growth of our optical business and have always tried to keep up with the demands of our patients and give them the very best service possible. We have succeeded to a great extent in caring for their eye needs and cured hundreds of Headaches and other troubles which come from the eyes being strained. Our examination in every case, no matter how complicated, has always been very thorough and scientific, and our results have proven so. We may not use as many instruments as some, but you may rest assured we have the very best and most accurate instruments known to the optical science today, and we positively know how to use them to give the very best results. After these years of diligent and pains-taking work examining eyes and prescribing glasses, we have built our optical business on a sound and growing foundation and have spared no expense in putting in ANOTHER OPTICAL PARLOR fitted up with all the newest instruments for eye-examinations, giving us two modern fitting rooms to take care of our large increase in optical work. We have always ground our own lenses, adjusted our own frames to fit the face correctly and carried the largest stock of optical goods in Lorain county. We know that when you come to Haserodt's to have your eyes fitted you will get the very best results from glasses and we will always tell you the truth about your eyes.

We will gladly make appointments for fitting glasses, and our hours are from 8:00 a. m. to 6 o'clock p. m. every day, except Saturdays which are 8:00 a. m. to 10 p. m.

Our prices are the most reasonable for good workmanship and highest quality of glasses that are possible to grind.

Let us prove to you the same as we have to hundreds of others that we can cure your head aches and Eye Strain with glasses that are fitted by our own method.

GIOVANNA PAPINI

The name smacks of macaroni, garlic, and the organ grinder with the monkey. Or possibly, he may be the bootblack around the corner. These are the types with which we associate a man whose name ends with "ini."

But everybody who reads is asking, "Have you read Papini's "Story of Christ?" With great show of pride and satisfaction, and a very knowing air, we answer, "Sure, I've read Papini."

Well, then, who is Papini, and what about his much-talked about book? Here goes. Papini was an atheist,—an ancient writer used very plain language, and called that kind of a man a fool. For Papini, the world was a grim joke, a horrible mistake. He could have done a better job than the Creator, and he was modest enough to say so. But came the war,—a confirmation of his grim philosophy that everything was bad. But came also a serious thought,—can anything be done to make it better? To whom may we go for light? The church? There they were all around him in Florence, but how powerless, how empty of counsel! The Universities? The men who were leading armies and who sat in the places of power were all university men; and see the mess they have made of it. Europe a slaughter pen! Italy broken and demoralized! A world in darkness!

Then a book,—the four gospels, not the whole Bible,—and the story of a great-hearted, sympathetic spirit. He is moved, and he writes. It is not a book of scholarship, not a severe study. But in Him is the hope of the torn and hateful world. The light of imagination plays on every page. That stable in which he was born, not the stable of the great painters of the Nativity, but a dirty, vermin infested place, and He the only pure thing in it with His mother. Then the story of goodness, deep sympathy, wonderful understanding of all the hopes and aspirations of the human spirit, even when it inhabits a lust-tortured body or wallows among pigs in the far country. The theology of it is a little musty and passe, but that is not what impresses us when we read Papini. "Today He is closer to us than when He ate the bread of our fields. That May cloud which hid Him still hovers near the earth, and every day we raise our weary and mortal eyes to that same heaven from which He will descend in the terrible splendor of His Glory." We cannot say more. Read Papini's "Story of Christ."

THE MARITAL WOES OF STAGE PEOPLE

Scarcely a day passes but some singer or actor or movie star is in the divorce court suing for separation. The latest one is Anita Stewart. Polygamy is under the ban of our laws: but many of these stage people succeed in getting the better of these laws by the practice of what has been called successive polygamy.

It is not an enviable record that has been established by these professional entertainers. Undoubtedly there are many of them whose domestic felicity is unquestioned. But the prominence given to their marital infelicities has a bad influence upon morals generally. These people are temperamental, their mode of life is abnormal, and perhaps more or less irregularity under such circumstances is to be expected. It should be remembered, however, that a reaction against this sort of thing is inevitable. The Puritan reaction against the stage was not against the art, but against the immorality of the actors and the salaciousness of the drama. The theatre has not yet recovered from that reaction in the minds of great multitudes of people. And surely the successive scandals of the theatrical and movie world, and the widely advertised infidelity of many engaged in that world, will not help to regain the confidence of the better people.

The remedy lies in the profession itself. A code of professional ethics has been established in law, in medicine, and in other professions. Why should not those who are engaged in the business of entertaining and inspiring great crowds of people combine to set their profession on a high plane? We commend this to those whom it may concern.

W. W HUSBAND

An appropriation from congress to "modernize" Ellis Island, gateway to the U S for millions of immigrants, is to be asked by W W Husband, U S commissioner of Immigration.

W H HUSBAND

Husband's announcement that he will seek funds for modernizing the plant follows a thorough inspection and study of the station with architects, sanitary experts and other technical men

Husband's home is in St Johnsbury, Vermont. He made his debut in government circles as secretary to Senator Dillingham of Husband's home state in 1902 Three years later he was named secretary to the immigration commission created to make a sweeping study of the immigration situation. He eventually became executive secretary and general manager of its investigations

When the commission's work was done Husband became adviser to Secretary of Commerce Nagle on immigration matters. He left that department before the war and during the world conflict served on a commission dealing with the exchange of prisoners He succeeded Anthony Caminetti as Immigration Commissioner

POEMS THAT LIVE

MILD THE MIST UPON THE HILL

Mild the mist upon the hill,
Telling not of storms tomorrow;
No. the day has wept its full,
Spent its store of silent sorrow.

Oh, I've gone back to the days of youth,
I am a child once more,
And 'neath my father's sheltering roof,
And near the old hall door,

I watch this cloudy evening fall,
After a day of rain.
Blue mists sweet mists of summer pall
The horizon's mountain chain.

The damp stands in the long, green grass
As thick as morning's tears:
And dreamy scents of fragrance pass
That breathe of other years

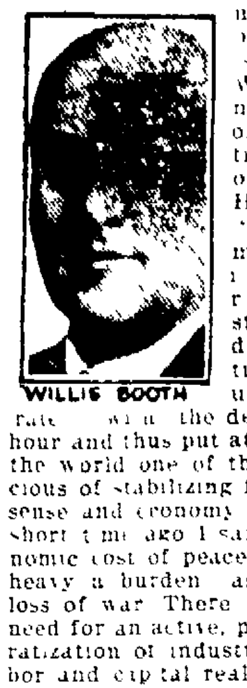
TIMELY VIEWS ON WORLD TOPICS

"Unless we supplement our national idealism with practical efforts based upon the fundamental principal of helping other peoples to help themselves, our idealism must fail of its purpose" Such is the opinion of Willis H Booth, new president of the International Chamber of Commerce He continues "This country must utilize its industrial resources strength and individual initiative in a measure commensurate with the demands of the hour and thus put at the disposal of the world one of the most efficacious of stabilizing forces Common sense and economy are needed A short time ago I said that the economic cost of peace is almost as heavy a burden as the economic loss of war There is imperative need for an active, practical democratization of industry also Let labor and capital really get together and work in harmony and this country will enjoy prosperity to the fullest"



WILLIS BOOTH

"U. S. MIGHT ADOPT SOME FASCISTI POLICIES," SAYS PROFESSOR BACK FROM ITALY

There are many things in the Fascista policies which might be adopted to ethical and business advantage by the United States in both its foreign and domestic affairs, says Arthur Lincoln, Frothingham, who has just returned from Italy, where he talked with Mussolini and other Italian statesmen. The matter of the Chester concessions could never have had the consent of the Italian government he said, because of the idealistic principles upon which the Italian state is now based.

Mr Frothingham, formerly a member of the Princeton university faculty, went to Italy to study Facismo with the view to promoting a better understanding of it in the organizations with which he is affiliated, including the National Civic Federation He returned convinced that Mussolini would remain in power for at least two years longer by which time his methods would have had a thorough trial, and would probably change the social organization of the country

"Facismo is based on ethics, on the Christian religion without any connection with the church," he said "This religious sentiment in Italy is evident everywhere I was amazed at the number of books on religion I saw in the windows The whole nation is back of Mussolini Even the Catholic party backs him to a certain extent within the limits of its own organization

"As for socialism, it is down and out in Italy, because it has been proved an abject failure in practice That was shown when the workers took over the factories An illustration of its weakness is that there has not been a single strike in Italy sinc Mussolini gained control The industries are run by syndical cooperation, in which three elements take part—the owners, the technical experts and the hand workers They are pledged to settle every difficulty without a strike."

POLITICIAN'S WIFE SAILS FOR PARIS TO GET DIVORCE

All of the victims were either graduated, students of the little school, or parents and friends.

Jump Thru Windows

One man threw his wife bodily through an open window and then leaped after her. She was severely injured, and he hurt his legs in the leap. Afterward, he blamed the fact that the stairway door opened inward for most of the panic and deaths.

"Those nearest the platform pushed those ahead towards the narrow doorway," said Chief of police E. G. Whitaker. "The jam, of course, became terrific, and then in some unexplained manner, probably because of the jostling and straining, the door became closed, and the people behind pushed those ahead into the door, keeping it shut.

"This left only the windows and they were soon chocked too.

"The explosion of the lamp and the overturning of others threw the place into semi-darkness, and this coupled with the smoke added terror to the confusion.

Lamp Explodes

"Also, the first explosion had scattered burning oil over a number of people near it, and their clothing immediately became a mass of flames. Between trying to fight the flames that were consuming, and trying to get to the doors and windows, it can readily be imagined what a horrible inferno the place was soon turned into."

The Cleveland school house community is made up of small farmers and mill operatives, and is similar to hundreds of other small communities throughout the south.

The entire police and fire departments of Camden were on the scene this morning, and restoring some semblance or order out of the chaos and terror that taslked unchecked throughout the night.

The dead were blackened and charred, and identification in some cases will be difficult,—a matter of elimination, as clothing was burned entirely away.

Many Unidentified

As fast as the bodies were pulled from the smoking cauldron, they were laid in one long row on the grass of the school yard, while weeping mothers and frantic fathers and terror stricken children rushed up and down the line seeking to identify missing relatives. It was a heart rending scene, made doubly pathetic by the large number of children in that long, black line.

"It was the most awful thing imaginable," said the chief of police.

"But for the panic all who were in the crowded little schoolroom could have escaped," the Rev. J. J. Johnson, pastor of the First Baptist church of Camden said today.

The Rev. Johnson escaped uninjured when a spectator dragged him from the crowded doorway into which the frantic pupils and their parents had crowded. The minister's wife and little daughter escaped with slight injuries. His little son was burned to death.

Two Score Escape

Panic followed instantly the crash of the lamp which started the fire. It was one of these old fashioned hanging kerosene lamps and its fastenings had become loosened through time. When it fell, with an explosion and flare of flames, most of the crowd made for the one exit, a narrow boxed stairway.

Others made for the windows and jumped.

Chief of police Whitaker estimated that two score escaped by jumping. They suffered but slight injuries.

A nurse at the Camden hospital told International News Service that five victims of the fire, all so seriously injured that physicians would not permit them to see any one, were at the hospital. Seven or eight others were taken to their homes, she said.

"Nightmare" Says Victim

Thomas Humphries, assistant cashier of the Bank of Camden, still living at the Camden hospital, but so terribly burned that his recovery is doubtful, could not remember how he escaped the blaze.

"It was a nightmare from the time of the explosion All I remember is the flare of the lamp and the wail of terror that went up."

The bodies which were taken from the ruins today probably will be buried in one grave, it was said.

"Every one could have gotten out all right if they had moved quietly to the stairway," the Rev. Johnson affirmed. "Though the exploding lamp spread flaming kerosene, the room was not fully afire for several minutes, enough time for all to get out."

David Campbell, who attended the exercises, with his sister-in-law, Mrs. Doney Campbell, and his niece, Ella Campbell, both of whom perished, escaped with bruises by jumping from a window.

"The scene at the stairway was horrible, with children and grown folks in a struggling, screaming mass. They were jammed so tight that none could hope to get out except those who were dragged out by people outside.

"Everybody lost their heads when the lamp dropped. A kind of terrified scream went up and the crowd all rushed for the stairway."

RESCUES EATON TOT WHO FELL INTO POND

Man Working on Barn Finds Two and One-Half Year - Old Youngster Trapped in Mud and Water

EATON, May 18.—What came near being a tragedy occurred at the home of Clare Durkee Thursday just after dinner when their youngest son Donald, two and a half years old, fell into the pond behind the barn. Mr. Durkee was in the field at work, and Mrs. Durkee who had seen the children a few moments previous, did not think but what they were near by.

Bernard, the older brother, not quite six, came to give the alarm, and first told an employee of A. R. Ruder who was doing some work on the barn for Mr. Durkee. The man hurried to the pond and guided by the reports of the other two children and by air bubbles rising to the surface of the water, waded out and found the boy by groping with his hands down into the mud and water at the bottom of the pond.

Had it not been for prompt action on the part of this man whose name has not been learned, the little boy would probably have drowned.

Mrs. Mame Cornish has gone to LaGrange to care for a maternity patient.

Mr. and Mrs. Elson Dye, of Elyria, were callers at the Hopwood home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schildt and Mr and Mrs. Maurice Barchard of Elyria, were the guests Sunday of Mr and Mrs. Paul Bassett

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Ross and daughter Margaret took dinner with Mr. Ross' uncle, J. M. Longbon and family in Columbia Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Milo Cornish of Dover, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. M. Hopwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Haserodt and daughter Josephine, Mr and Mrs. Edward Haserodt and two other guests were entertained Sunday at the home of George Bassett.

Mrs. Mary Dawley has gone to Elyria to help care for her brother-in-law, Stanley Haskin, who is very ill.

Mrs. D. W. Carpenter celebrated her seventy-fourth birthday anniversary Sunday. Her four daughters, Mrs. Mae Bingham of Eustis, Florida; Mrs. Daisy MacKnight, of Bedford; Mrs. Anna Carpenter, her husband, A. D. Carpenter, daughter Ruth, son Russell, of Columbia, Mrs. Gladys Strickland, her husband George Strickland and two children Dorothy and Wilma of Ridgeville, also Mr. and Mrs. Harold Carpenter of Ridgeville were present. A fine birthday cake was the center of interest at the dinner table. Mrs. Carpenter received several birthday gifts as remembrances of the occasion. A host of friends hope she may enjoy many more such anniversaries.

Reverend and Mrs. F. H. Randall expect to come from East Radford, Virginia, next week to attend Commencement exercises at Oberlin Seminary. They will visit friends here before returning.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cornish and daughters of Elyria were the dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. M. Hopwood.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Ross entertained relatives from Wellington, Sunday.

C. W. Longbon was the guest Tuesday of his brother J. M. Longbon and family in Columbia.

Miss Virginia Ross will go to Creston, Wayne County, next Monday to compete in the inter-county spelling contest.

"Farewell Blues"

THE Georgians have packed this fox-trot selection with syncopated romance and rhythm till it fairly snaps with dance magnetism.

Never, in all your days—or evenings—have you trotted to anything that surpasses "Farewell Blues," Columbia New Process Record A-3864, for sparkle and spice and pep and go.

And on the other side is their equally artistic rendition of "Snake's Hips," another fox-trot that will make you wonder which is entitled to the blue ribbon.

Each of these selections is liberally decorated with alluring brass, banjo, clarinet, and saxophone trimmings.

This record, from the June program, is only a sample of the good things in this newest Columbia release. All of the new records listed here are Columbia New Process Records—made with the wonderfully quiet surface that eliminates the annoying scratch and scrape of needle noise.

Tear out this list, take it to your Columbia Dealer and listen in on this delightful program of latest dance hits, newest songs and choice symphony selections.

All Columbia Records can be played on any phonograph.

Only in Columbia New Process Records will you find a positive freedom from distressing needle grind. The process is patented. No one else can produce anything even resembling Columbia's construction and improved surface.

"TEMPLE FOUR" AT RIALTO SUNDAY

Patrons of the Sunday concerts at the Rialto theatre will remember early in the season when George White's Scandals of 1922 were appearing in Cleveland, Manager Woodward was able through personal friendship of Mr. White to secure for a Sunday appearance the famous "Temple Four," one of the features of this famous revue for the past two seasons.

The "Temple Four" was the hit of the year, and holds the record for attendance at the Rialto theatre for this season.

Manager Woodward was able to secure them again for a return engagement Sunday at the Rialto theatre, en route to Detroit. They will be heard in an entire new cycle of songs.

Other acts on the bill are the beautiful Elwell Sisters, dancers. Ralph Seabury, offering one of the most pleasing novelties in vaudeville. Kola and Indotta, two natives of the Southern Isles, in native songs, music and dances. Maurice and Girlie offer a surprise act entitled, "The Unexpected." A two reel comedy and a one reel News Weekly completes one of the best bills of the season.

THEATRES

GRAND—Jacqueline Logan and Charles Ray in "A Taylor Made Man." Jacqueline Logan has proved proficient in literature, singing and acting, both on the stage and before the camera, and she's hardly out of her teens. Her work is clear cut, incisive, and intelligent. Her beauty combined with an intensity that reveals the poetical, dramatic fire, makes her an interesting nad unique character. Charles Ray is too well known to need any introduction. He is first class all the time.

AMERICAN—"Conquering the Woman". This is the story of a girl who had her own way once too often. The amazing, amusing romance of a social butterfly, a blue blooded county and a blue-shirted cowboy. Lions have been tamed, wild horses have been broken, but it is tame compared with conquering a woman. When a girl says she can't stand a man, and the man says the girl isn't worth a thought, beware, cupid is hiding around the corner.

COLONIAL—The choice picture "Forget Me Not," a real love story. It tells of two orphan children who love each other, and are adopted in to different families and stations in life. They both go through some trying experiences, but on the close of the picture everything is rosy, and they meet again. A fine comedy is also shown, making a good program.

DREAMLAND—Hoot Gibson in "Ridin' Wild." Gibson needs no introduction as he is a young, popular and snappy star of the screen, and the picture is a western that is chuck full of pep. Also a good comedy.

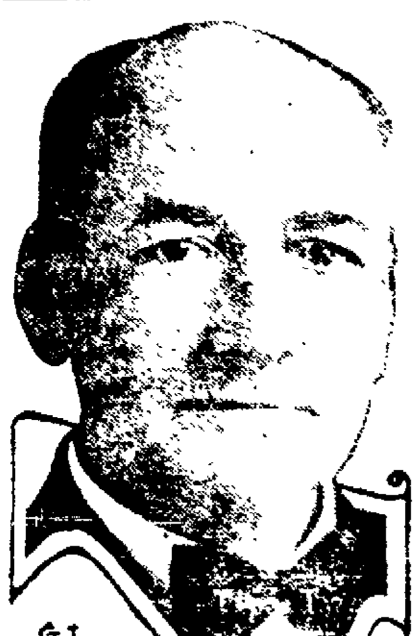
SEAT SALE BIG FOR "LAFFIN' THRU 1922" AT RIALTO SATURDAY

"Laffin Thru 1922," the big burlesque revue at the Rialto theatre, tomorrow night, Saturday, May 18, will be greeted by a big house, judging from the big advance sale that opened at the theatre box this morning.

"Laffin Thru" comes to Elyria with the reputation of being one of the best burlesques of the season. It is said to have an exceptionally good cast of clever comedians, singers, dancers and versatile entertainers.

A splendid chorus of 16 dimpled darlings are carried, and the costuming and scenic equipment are all that could be desired.

Troubles Over, States Popular Hotel Man



"My friends all say I look better than I have in years, and I certainly do feel the part, too," recently said Geo L. Burke, popular day clerk at the Portland Hotel, 555 Main St., Kansas City, Mo., and a former resident of Youngstown, O., in relating his experience with Tanlac.

"Before taking Tanlac I had no appetite, and for two years had been almost a chronic sufferer from indigestion. Rheumatism, knife-like pains in my back, headaches, dizzy spells and frayed nerves also added to my misery. I was losing weight, and had to strain every nerve and muscle to keep going.

"Well, Tanlac did away with all my troubles, added fifteen pounds to my weight, and put me in the pink of condition. I can't say enough for Tanlac."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Take no substitute. Over 37 million bottles sold.

PENFIELD

By Mrs. Myrtle Gregg

PENFIELD, May 18.—Mothers' Day was observed in both churches Sunday. "His Mother's Sermon" was impressive and splendidly given by the M. E. choir and the large audience listened attentively. At the Congregational church, Rev. A. J. Andrus gave a fine Mothers' discourse anthem by the choir. Miss Ollis sang a beautiful solo to the large audience present and each church gave a carnation to every mother present.

Ralph Hacker of Lakewood, visited at his parents, Mr. Fred Hacker, Sunday. He, accompanied by his family will soon start on a vacation trip to California and return.

Robert McCoy of Cleveland, spent Mothers' Day at home.

Students from Penfield motored to Wellington Wednesday to practice in the preliminary track meet. Frield Day at Elyria Friday.

Mrs. Fred Andrews of Wellington, and Mrs. Judson Starr of Elyria, were guests Wednesday of Mrs. A. B. Smith.

Mrs. Hattie Johnson of LaGrange, sister of Mrs. R. O. Biggs of this place, was laid to rest on Monday. Death was due to erysipelas and other complications.

Mr. and Mrs. Behnke spent Tuesday in Elyria shopping and called on Mr. Behnke's sister, Mrs. Fowl.

Nearly one hundred milk producers of Penfield and surrounding territory met at Penfield's regular meeting, Monday evening, May 14. Mr. Coolidge, President of the Tellings-Vernon company gave a very interesting talk on the retail milk situation in Cleveland. After which the regular business was taken care of. Membership certificates are in the hands of secretary A. J. Andrews.

At the meeting of the Epworth League Sunday evening, May 13th, the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Bert Newcomb; first vice president, Howard Andrews; second vice president, Mildred Sooy; fourth vice president, Stanley Wolfe, and secretary and treasurer, Frank Sooy. This is the thirty-fourth anniversary of the Epworth League.

TODAY'S BRIGHT SPOT

Attorney Louis Josephson, Columbus, drives an electric between his home and his office. Unlike many others, if Mr. Josephson does not find a parking place, he does not despair. Instead, he parks his "pink tea cart" wherever he can, even though it happens to be in a prohibited zone. "If so, so be it," he philosophizes.

Police told Judge Berry, in municipal court, that they were "getting fed" on tagging Josephson's car four of five times a week, when it didn't mean anything. So the attorney was hailed into court.

There the Judge ordered Mr. Josephson to report each evening at 9 o'clock to Policewoman Emily Greer, whether he had violated the traffic laws that day. Just what penalty Miss Greer shall inflict if Josephson admits he had been "nauty, nauty," was not stated.

ELYRIA BUSINESS COLLEGE BANQUET IS BIG SUCCESS

The annual alumni banquet of the Elyria Business College which was held last evening at the Y. M. C. A. was a splendid success and a great deal of credit is due the student body for the loyalty shown to the institution.

One hundred and twenty were present as they sat down to the fine chicken dinner. The dining hall was nicely decorated with college colors of green and gold and the tables were decorated with a profusion of spring flowers. Orchestra music in charge of Harold Doncaster added a pleasing tone to the occasion, and the real season of levity began when all joined in the singing of popular songs led by Miss Doris Todd.

Jay. Fitch., president, and. toast master, gave a short and interesting talk on the value of the organization, and in turn called upon the following persons: Mr. Alvin Stellar, former president, Miss Doris Todd, Miss N. Estelle Strouse, and E. T. Reese, who all gave interesting and entertaining talks with helpful suggestions.

Mr. Reese then introduced Mr. C. W. Koppes of the High School, who spoke in a very interesting and pleasing manner. He emphasized the value of loyalty to self and school, and impressed upon all that to be successful is a duty that each one owes to the school that he has attended.

Mr. T. L. Moise gave a straight heart to heart talk for young people and drove home many important facts in the development of high grade stenographers and accountants. He gave splendid insight to great opportunities and showed that any person with the proper direction of effort would be sure to win. Mr. Moise also spoke in praise of the stenographers and bookkeepers developed at The Elyria Business College, and said that the local Business College was rendering a great service to the city and community.

The address of the evening by Dr. Robert Parker Miles. noted lecturer and entertainer, was evidently the greatest treat of its kind enjoyed by the alumni in many a day. For an hour and a quarter Dr Miles kept his audience in a spellbound attitude except for the frequent and sudden bursts of laughter that came from the young people as he would so artfully mix his expressions of humor in his rather serious address on "Sparks." He gave striking illustrations of success achieved by men and women who seemingly had very little opportunity. That his address was pleasing and appreciated was shown by the large number of young people who rushed forward at the close for a hand-shake with the speaker.

The following officers were lected for the ensuing year: president. Doris Todd; vice president, Leonard Kuss; secretary. Mildred Fauver; treasurer. Kenneth Lord; executive committee. Clifford Hennings. Elizabeth Walsh and Florence Klingbeil.

DAUGHTERS OF SCOTLAND TO HOLD STATE MEET IN ELYRIA

The Daughters of Scotland, Argyle Lodge, held their regular meeting in Wurst hall last evening. Plans were formulated for the entertainment of the delegates to the State convention of the Scottish Order to be held here in August. The Daughters of Scotland hold their next meeting on June 7th.

CULTURE CLUB MEETS WITH MRS. JOHN BATH

The Culture Club met with Mrs. John Bath, at her home on Third street yesterday. Mrs. A. W. Hart, the president, was in charge of the business session which was largely given over to the planning of next year's program. The program of the afternoon was most interesting and instructive and consisted of five-minute presentations of the following subjects: Life of Audubon, by Mrs. M. M. Wilcox; Junior Audubons in Public school, by Mrs. James Cather; Fish Hatcheries of Ohio, by Mrs. J. F. Burke; Native Fish of Ohio, by Mrs. William Beal, Pheasant Farms in Ohio by Mrs. Hubbard; and Forestry Reserves and Forest Rangers, by Mrs. P. F. Loope. The next meeting will be held in two weeks with Mrs. Foote, on Lake avenue.

KIWANIANS APPOINT "PUBLIC AFFAIRS COMMITTEE"

At the Kiwanis luncheon yesterday noon, plans were made to attend the Inter-City meet of the 5th District, at Hotel Winton, in Cleveland last night. It was also decided that the Elyria Club would hold a joint ladies party with the Medina Club next Thursday evening. Consequently, the noon luncheon will be dispensed with on that date.

On Wednesday, May 23rd the Painesville, and Hubbard Clubs will receive their charters and Mayor Asaph Jones, Kiwanian Lieutenant-Governor, and his representative will be at these Clubs to present the charters.

A "Public Affairs Committee" was appointed with Henry Andress, as chairman, which was authorized to confer with the committees from [illegible] organizations to put over the "Boost Elyria" campaign.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hancock spent yesterday in Canton, the guests of friends.

MEMBERSHIP DINNER AT METHODIST CHURCH SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR

One hundred and seventy members sat down to a sumptous banquet at the Methodist Church last evening. The tables were gay with spring flowers. Mrs. Fritz Rudin, the president, opened the meeting by having the ladies sing the Home Missionary Doxology. Thanks were given by Rev. Kirby and reports from the different departmental chairmen were read. These showed that splendid results had been accomplished during the past year and were most gratifying to all present. Special mention should be made of the work done by the membership committee, headed by Mrs. James Cather, who succeeded in adding forty-one to the membership, in addition to the new members secured last evening.

Music was provided by Mrs. M. F. Elliott. who sang a pleasing solo, and who also sang a duet with Mrs. Clarence Deazell. A very able and instructive address was given by Mrs. Kirby. who told of her experiences as a deaconess among the foreigners of southern Ohio. She summed up the substance of her message in the words. "All nations of the world are looking towards America to save and Christianize the world."

A free-will offering was taken. which was generously responded to.

FRIENDSHIP CLUB INSTALLS OFFICERS

The Senior Farewell and Installation of Officers of the Friendship Club was held last night at the Y. W. C. A. The girls' mothers were invited also and over one hundred were present. After a delicious supper had been served, the installation of officers was held.

The new presidnt. Marion Philpott, was given the oath of office by the former president. Conna Bell. The new cabinet is made up of the following girls: Marion Philpott, Ida May Morgan, Helen Buswell, Jane Moody, Josephine Harpster, Katherine Eckler, Mildred Wiggins, Dorothy Wilford, Virginia Haserodt, Geraldine Halpin, Agnes Dengate, Marguerite Shaw, Lois Nelding, Gertrude Bliss, Mary Riley, Dorothea Doane, Karen Nielson, Dorothy Clark, Rena Meyrick, Isabelle Hasely, Josephine Krugman, Edna Fossellus and Elizabeth Kruleman.

Ohio Federation Women's Clubs

By Mrs. Geo. Elliott McCormick
Director of Press

Lakeside Federation of Women's Clubs will conduct its annual convention at Lakeside on July 11 and 12. This announcement is made by Mrs. H. B. Gooding, Tiffin, president of the federation, which is made up of clubs along Lake Erie. An attractive program has been prepared. Speakers will include Mrs. Cornelius S. Solover, Cleveland, president of the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs, E. C. Vermilion, Columbus, Ohio state director of Americanization; Mrs. Robert C. Morris, Toledo, state chairman of literature; Mrs. Chas H. Halter, Fremont, state chairman on legislation, Representative Chas. Brand, of the Seventh congressional district; Prof. A. C. Hollis, Columbus, Ohio State University department of horticulture; and Mrs. George Elliott McCormick, Marion, director of press and publicity for the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs.

Charles Rand Kennedy and his charming wife, Edith Wynn Mathison, will present their miracle play, "The Chastening," the evening of July 11. Mr. Kennedy is the author of this modern-day vehicle, in which he stars with his wife. He is also the author of "The Servant in the House."

Mrs. Gooding is looking forward to a highly successful convention. "Several new clubs have joined and a great deal of interest is being manifested," she writes, "so I hope for an interesting and profitable convention."

A successful benefit campaign for the county library fund of the City Federation of Women's Clubs at Findlay has resulted in many requests that "Paper" day be made an annual event. Mrs. C. E. Kramer, president of the Findlay federation, reports that two carloads of old magazines and newspapers were collected from the homes, factories, and business houses and sold. Mrs. M. D. Neff was general chairman of the drive, which was conducted last month.

One of the busiest club women in the nation is Mrs. Edith McClure Patterson, Dayton, Ohio, federation thrift chairman, who has now been made chairman of budgets for the general federation, which has more than 2,000,000 club womn throughout the United States. Her pro- as chairman of budgets will be planned spending, a bibliography of books, and a list of public lectures. "These," she says, "will be used in a permanent bureau of budgets which I hope will be created in every one of the 10,000 clubs of America and their fourteen affiliated organizations. Planned spending is the mainspring of all family and community life. If we can in any way stabilize the spending of money, we will eliminate worry, unnecessary debt, and bad health resulting from these things. If we can raise the standard of living in only a small degree we will have accomplished a big thing."

Already assurances of their hearty co-operation have been received by Mrs. Patterson from John J. Tigert, national commissioner of education; J. C. Wright, director of the federal board of vocational education; and General Herbert N. Lord, director of the federal budgets.

Assisted by the Lima Realtors' Association, the Lima Federation of Women's Clubs has arranged for the observance of "Better Homes" week beginning June 4.

Marion club women are elated over the success of an orthopedic clinic for crippled children at the O. N. G. armory last Tuesday. The clinic was under the auspices of the Marion Rotary club with the Marion County Federation of Women's Clubs assisting.

BUCKEYE CLUB ENTERTAINS AT DINNER

Mrs. Orion Stilgenbauer, of West Avenue, was hostess yesterday to the members of the Buckeye Club and their husbands and children. A four-course dinner was served at 7:00 o'clock in a room beautiful with violets, after which dancing was enjoyed. The members present were Mr. and Mrs. Mel Tapper, Mr. and Mrs. William Erhick, Mr. and Mrs. George Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Swindling, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Faulhaber, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Koontz, Mr. and Mrs. Ora Barton, and Mr. and Mrs. Orion Stilgenbauer.

ST. PAUL'S LADIES AI DMEETS

The Ladies Aid of St. Paul's Evangelical church was entertained yesterday in the church parlors by Mrs. Mary Burns assisted by Mrs. Tilly Bowers. There were twenty-seven members and one visitor present. Devotionals were lead by Mrs. Getta Miller, who read a paper, entitled "What will Your Child Be When He Grows Up," which deserved much consideration. Announcement was made of a meeting of the Lorain County Federation of Evangelical Women's Organizations to be held in South Amherst on June 24th. This is to be an all-day meeting.

The ladies will be entertained June Seventh by Mrs. A. Heginbotham and Mrs. Charles Hahn at the church.

ROUND TABLE PLANS PICNIC

The Round Table meet with Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Webber, at their home on Columbus street, on Thursday evening. The topic of the evening was given by Mrs. George Snyder, the subject being "I Didn't Know That," written by Edward Bok for the Atlantic Monthly. Mr. Mox Weber of Oberlin College entertained the club with several readings given in a very finished and pleasing manner.

The last meeting of the club year will be a picnic up the Vermilion river on June 20th, details of which will be published later.

MAM-A-LUC CLUB ENTERTAINED

Miss Constance Duckett, of West avenue, entertained the Mam-a-luc Club yesterday. High score was made by Mrs. L. L. Smith, second place, by Miss Lona May Hogle, and Mrs. Edward Ha[illegible] was consoled. Miss Covert delighted those present with several selections on the piano and a delicious luncheon was served. They meet in two weeks with Mrs. L. L. Smith as hostess.

MANY PIGGLY WIGGLY STORES PURCHASED

MEMPHIS Tenn., May 18 – Clarence Saunders, Piggly Wiggly, chief today would neither affirm, deny or discuss the report that the Chicago chain of the Piggly Wiggly stores had been purchased by the National Tea Company for the reported price of $1,000,000. Locally Saunders' attitude is taken as a virtual admission of the sale.

Saunders admitted however, the Chicago stores had been sold to "somebody."

According to the latest report of the Mexican Department of Petroleum the operations last year were confined to a large extent to fields already proven, and very little was done in new districts, most of which are located far from the old fields. Many test drillings have been made in an endeavor to locate the extentions of the old developed fields, and many of these have been successful.

pure—
—that is the outstanding characteristic of Carnation Milk. For it is simply whole cows' milk with about 60% of the water removed by evaporation. It is then hermetically sealed in its convenient containers and sterilized.
When you serve it at breakfast for creaming coffee, fruit or cereals, use it just as it comes from the can, or dilute it with water, as you prefer. For Carnation Milk has the consistency of rich, country cream.
whole
milk, as a complete food, has no rival in all nature. And that is what Carnation is, minus only about 60% of the water content.
When you serve Carnation for drinking, simply add one and a half to two parts of water. Children thrive on it.
Use Carnation for every purpose for which you now use milk—for breakfast, luncheon, dinner, and between meals—for cooking, baking and desserts.
Why not try it today? Grocers everywhere sell Carnation milk
CREAM OF POTATO SOUP
2 potatoes, 2 tbsp. flour, 2 tbsp. butter, 1 tsp. salt, 3 cups water, 1 tsp. parsley, 1 cup Carnation Milk.
Cut potatoes in cubes and cook until soft in boiling salt water. Beat with fork in water in which potatoes were cooked. Melt butter; add flour; then milk diluted with water, and cook for five minutes. Add parsley. Combine with potatoes. This recipe serves six people.
MEAT PIE
1½ lbs. beef, 1 cup of potatoes, ½ cup carrots, salt, pepper, slice onion.
Cut meat which has been left from pot roast or cold broiled steak into one-half inch cubes, cook vegetables, make sauce by browning onion in fat, thicken with flour, add seasoning and hot stock or water. Mix meat, vegetables and sauce. Add parsley and pour mixture into buttered baking dish. Cover with crust rolled one-eighth inch thick and bake 15 to 20 minutes. This recipe serves six people.
For Cover
1 cup flour, 2 tsp. baking powder, 1 tbsp. lard or substitute, ¼ tsp. salt, 4 tbsp. water, 2 tbsp. Carnation Milk. Mix as for Carnation Biscuit.
CARNATION BISCUIT
2 cups flour, 4 tsp. baking powder, 2 tbsp. shortening, ½ tsp. salt, ½ cup water, ½ cup Carnation Milk.
Sift dry ingredients together. Mix in shortening with knife or fingers; add liquids, mixing to a soft dough. Roll lightly to one-half inch in thickness, cut and bake in hot oven about 15 minutes. This recipe makes about eight biscuits
BOILED SOFT CUSTARD
2 eggs, 1½ cups water, ½ cup Carnation Milk, ¼ tsp. salt, 2 tbsp. sugar, ½ tsp. vanilla.
Beat egg yolks slightly, add sugar and salt, then add milk diluted with water. Cook in double boiler and stir until mixture thickens and a coating is formed on spoon. Chill and flavor. Serve in sherbet glasses and place the stiffly beaten whites on top. This recipe serves six people.
There are many other recipes as good as these in the Carnation Cook Book. Send for it.

LONDON-CHICAGO AIR LINE PLANNED

Commander C. Dennis Burney.

An airship flying between Chicago and London is being planned by Commander C. Dennis Burney, British airplane expert and inventor. He is said to have the backing of the Vickers and Sheel groups of capitalists in Great Britain and a government subsidy. The time from London to Chicago is expected to be forty hours and the fare about the same as the steamboat rates.

PRESBYTERIANS NAME WISHART AS MODERATOR

INDIANAPOLIS, May 18.—Left free by his defeat for moderator, William Jennings Bryan was ready if given the opportunity today to make an effort to force the issue of Darwinism to the force of the 135th general assembly of the Presbyterian church. Fears of a great schism on the part of the commissioners of the 987 Presbyteries of the United States deterred them from naming Bryan to the highest church office.

Dr. Charles Frederick Wishart, of Wooster, Ohio, president of the Wooster College, the new moderator placed no interpretation on his victory except to say it was not personal. He made a plea for unity.

The large vote received by Bryan strengthened his conviction, he said that the church itself is orthodox and only a small fraction has been led away by the "brute hypothesis."

Dr. Calvin C. Hayes, retiring moderator, sounded the keynote for the assembly, discussing heresy, prohibition, prayer, immigration, church finances and other subjects of vital interest to the church.

"No appeal to force, no recourse to law, no ecclesiastical bull will drive out heresy where heresy appears," he said.

"Hell has enlarged herself in every effort to recover her lost stronghold," Dr. Hays said, referring to prohibition.

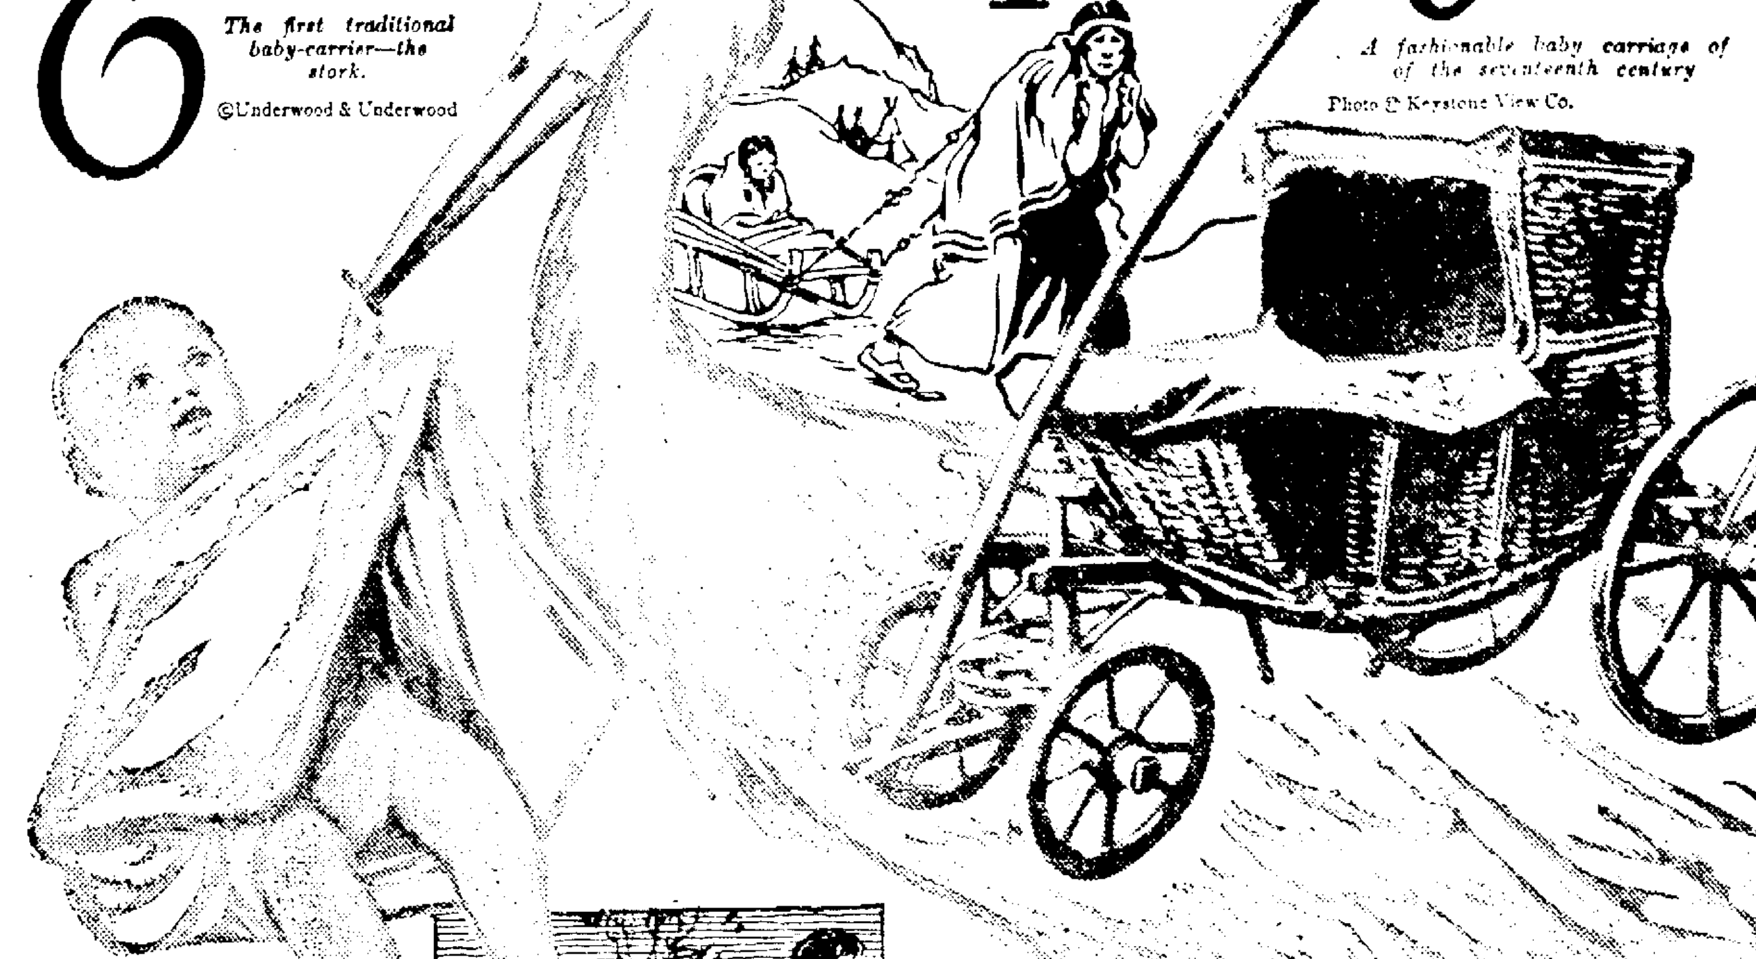
Evolution of Baby Transportation



The first traditional baby-carrier—the stork.

ONE MAMMA POWER

At left the Neanderthal woman with baby in a hide; above the first sledge, and at top the first sled.

By FLORENCE YODER

THE beginning and the end of the story were easy to find. Traditionally—the very first baby carrier was the stork. The last is the modern reed or fibre baby carriage—a combination bassinet-pullman style.

But the middle of the story follows a trail which runs through the entire history of the human race, and which in some places is so faint that even museums and libraries confess lack of information.

No one can dispute that the first mother carried the first baby either in her arms, or on her hip. These methods have really never gone out of style in 200,000 years more or less. Probably more, because the record of 200,000 years ago only carries us back to the probable wife of the Heidelberg gentleman. Some sort of men existed long before his time. Of course, if they were like apes, as many believe, they passed the formula along to Mrs. Modern Monkey, who can be seen with her baby astride her hip in any zoo.

Thousands of human mothers carry their small children that way to this day. For instance, in Thibet —but that is another story.

The next evidence of baby transportation comes when we make the acquaintance of Mrs. Neanderthal, who started another record fashion 50,000 years ago by carrying her baby on her back in a nice dried skin. As a result, the Indians, the Koreans, the Esquimaux and—but that is the rest of that other story.

Mrs. Neanderthal probably didn't realize what far-reaching effects would come of her act when she first hoisted Neanderthal, Jr., on her back in his all-hide, one-mamma-power prehistoric perambulator. Yet her invention has swayed the destinies of millions. It is clear to be seen that one baby safe on the back is worth ten in the arms.

Mrs. Neanderthal slung the skin on her back and brought its legs around one shoulder and under the arm opposite, tying them with a strip of hide or a piece of twisted grass. Later on her descendants varied the procedure by fastening two long poles to the shoulders and dragging the baby along on the ground in a skin attached to the ends of the pole. In northern countries where there was snow, the sled solved her problem.

First Wheeled Vehicles in China

One of the next steps carries us into the middle of China, thousands of years later, when the first wheel conveyances were made. It is safe to assume that with the making of the first cart came some sort of a rough conveyance for the baby.

With each improvement of the early wheel a long stride was taken in the progress of transportation for all human creatures. The coming of war chariots in Assyria and Egypt 2,000 years before Christ brought small chariots for children, and from then on to the appearance of the first real baby carriages the record is easy to trace.

Hidden away in one of the museums of Europe is a queer looking cart which dates from the 17th century. In general shape it is not unlike the modern baby sulky. The body of this little coach is made of reed, but there are no springs to soften the shocks.

During the following years the question of transportation for young men and women not able to walk was easily solved. The fortunes of the baby carriage were hitched to those of the coach, the brougham, the surrey and the carriage. Whatever was discovered in the way of comfort and convenience in transportation was applied, if practicable, to the baby carriage.

The making of vehicles for carrying children slowly emerged from being an allied trade into a separate industry. For many years in the 17th and 18th centuries the chassis remained the same, but a steady growth in the individualization of the body became apparent. In the 19th century, especially toward its close, this body decoration ran wild.

At even so recent a date as 1897 the perambulator de luxe was a thing to make one stay awake nights. Some of the most fashionable were made of reed, in bewildering shapes, and provided with rubber tires, springs and upholstery.

However, along about the time that people began to realize that plain food, plain clothing and simple surroundings were best, the baby carriage began to tone down and assume a far more modest appearance. Then the simple washable reed carriage came into being.

The only time when mothers really had anything to say about how they should transport their babies was back in the days of Mrs. Neanderthal, for when men began to manufacture baby carriages as a commercial proposition they made what they thought mothers ought to like, and mothers had to like them since there was nothing else to be had. Then some bright mind in the Heywood-Wakefield Company thought it might be a good idea to let a real mother say what she and all other mothers actually wanted, and the result was the last word in baby carriages, the bassinet-pullman, which in comfort and health differs as much from the ancient hip method as day differs from night.

Care and Comfort for the Baby.

Mrs. Modern Mother can tuck precious darling into his bassinet while still in the house. She can then carry the baby in his bassinet to the carriage, which is usually left outdoors, without subjecting his tender body to the will of the elements, or he can snooze away indoors in his nest-like bassinet and can be carried in it to Daddy's automobile, placed aboard and taken for his fresh air trip.

Yet, in all its pride, the modern baby carriage should never forget that it is the direct descendant of the stork, the hip method, the poles dragged on the ground, the sled, the first wheels on the first cart that rolled all human beings into the dawn of history, the rough chariot of the 17th century and the gaudy baby buggy of 1897.

Babies Don't Care What Month They're Born In

Recent statistics concerning the birth rate dampen certain popular beliefs. While it is true that March is the favorite month, it is only slightly so and the balance of the spring months do not at all live up to tradition. Over a five year period the monthly births have always hovered around 200,000. Here are the 5-year figures averaged for each month.

Raita Fujiyama.

Raita Fujiyama, president of the National Federation of Chambers of Commerce in Japan, recently called at the White House in Washington and was introduced to President Harding by M. Hanihara, Japanese ambassador.

CLASS PRESIDENT AT NORTHWESTERN

James Patterson.

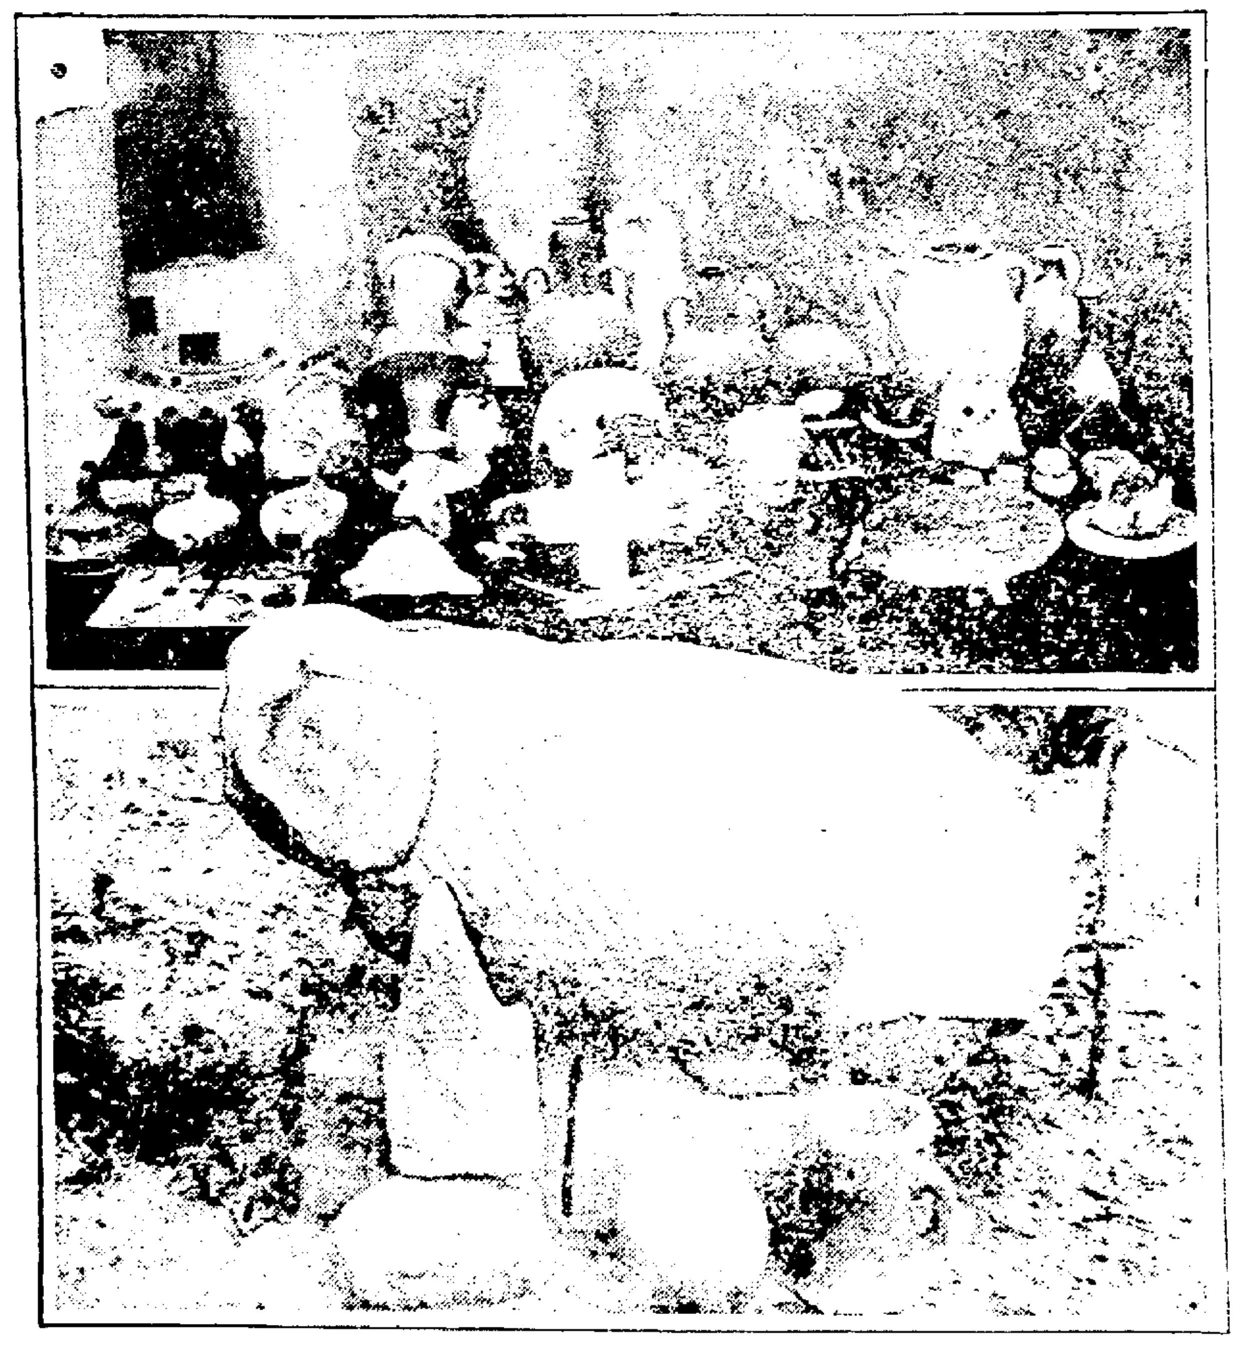
James Patterson, star athlete, president of the senior class and one of the most popular students at Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill., has told officials that he was one of the sponsors of the "hush it up" policy on the campus since Leighton Mount's rock-covered skeleton was found under a pier. The grand jury is probing the cause of Mount's death.

VIDOR AND WIFE AGREE TO PART

Florence Vidor.

Florence Vidor, beautiful film actress, and King Vidor, director, have agreed to try married life a la Fannie Hurst; that is, living apart, breakfast together maybe twice a week and all that sort of thing. According to Mrs. Vidor no divorce is contemplated, near or remote.

CARTHAGE RUINS GIVE UP PUNIC RELICS



Above, effigy of one of Hannibal's famous fighting elephants. Below, pottery work of the age of Punic supremacy

Relics of the age when Carthage challenged Rome for the supremacy of the world and Hannibal led his armies on Italy, have been unearthed on the site of the ancient Carthaginian city. These include stone effigies of Hannibal's famous war elephants, an urn containing cinders of children sacrificed to Moloch, a baby's milk bottle, a punic lamp, and bits of pottery found by Count Byron de Prorok, in charge of the Franco-American expedition.

POLITICIAN'S WIFE SAILS FOR PARIS TO GET DIVORCE

Mrs. Gladys Quinn.

Mrs. Gladys Quinn, wife of William F. Quinn, New York alderman, has sailed for Paris to seek a divorce from her husband. Mrs. Quinn some time back in an alimony action charged that her husband believed that "beating was the only language a woman understands," and acted accordingly.

FOREIGN DAREDEVIL RACERS INVADE U. S. SEEKING GLORY

American entries in the Indianapolis Sweepstakes, headed by Jimmy Murphy, last year's winner, are facing the most formidable foreign invasion in years. The cream of the drivers of Germany and France will be at the wheels of their Mercedes and Bugatti entries prepared to race the Americans right off the track. Many of the entries this year are small but powerful one-man affairs and new records are promised. The Germans are the only ones to carry two-men crews.
